Twist of fate saves teen from living room accident

By FRANK J. AMATO
WILMINGTON Thank God for small wonders, normally, at 8:00 on a Saturday night Christopher Richards would be laying on his couch watching television. Fortunately, June 10th, for him, he was in Atlanta.

A car driven by Laurie Southmayd, 23, Wilmington came crashing into the livingroom, stopping what would have been inches from where Christopher would normally be. Southmayd, was later arrested and charged with operating under the influence of alcohol.

Christopher's mother, Sheila had been in a class all day, and was on her way home when the crash occurred. "I'm just thankful that no one was hurt," said Sheila.

"I can't believe how nice all my neighbors have been through this," Richards said.

According to Richards, the house has $40,000 in damage. There is obvious damage to the shrubs, siding, fireplace, and structure of the home. "People I only see on a casual basis have offered to help me pack, move books, and boxes, one has even offered me a truck." She continued.

"I will have months of inconvenience, but it's great to know that I have neighbors to help," said Richards.

"This whole thing has been like a bad dream." She notes, "I can't reach an agreement with the insurance company, and nothing has been done, I don't want to put any money of my own out. I shouldn't have to," she continued.

While Richards continues her battle with the insurance company, she can be thankful she had such great neighbors, and small wonders.

4th of July festivities ready for rocket's red glare

By ERIC BRASSIL
While Boston and the rest of the country will wait until next Tuesday to celebrate Independence Day, Wilmington will stream its red, white and blue starting tomorrow.

"It's almost better than Boston's events," Wilmington resident Tim Smith said, "here you don't get lost in a crowd; it's just a good time for everyone."

Wilmington's six day "Fun on the Fourth" festivities begin Thursday night with a Rotary sponsored dinner on the Common. Each night opens with a dinner, followed by an athletic competition, an expanded carnival and a live band. Bands Roundabout, Hush, Clockwork and Baby Grand will play all week culminating in the "Big Night" Spectacular Fireworks display on July 3. That night will feature Wilmington's own Strings Attached student group followed by the Middlesex Band.

But for all the fun and celebration, there's a lot of preparation and hard work that goes into these events. Wilmington's Fourth of July Committee is the brainchild of these operations.

Selectmen meeting

Frustrations mount towards MBTA's parking lot project

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN
WILMINGTON - Town officials, who would like to see a fourth lane added to Route 38, have the immediate mitigation of traffic on its mind.

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) agrees that mitigation on Route 38 is needed before traffic projections hit intolerable heights by the year 2010. The Authority, however, is not yet sold on the idea of a fourth lane because it has on its own mind the number of parking spaces that it would have to sacrifice on its new parking lot in the center of town. Instead, the MBTA has drafted a number of its own remedies for traffic mitigation.

The catch? According to town officials, the MBTA has been keeping them in the dark about such designs.

"This has not been a dialogue, but a monologue," Town Manager Michael Caira told Senator Bruce Tarr and Representative James Miceli, who both attended the June 26 Board of Selectmen meeting.

Caira and town officials have made repeated efforts to meet with the MBTA to discuss possible designs for the area. At the June 26 meeting, it was clear that Caira and the Selectmen have grown quite frustrated with the lack of communication thus far.

Senator Tarr and Representative Miceli told the Selectmen that they have been pressing Secretary and MBTA Chairman Kevin J. Sullivan to quickly provide traffic mitigation to the beleaguered intersection of Routes 38 and 62.

"Why not get it out of the way now and satisfy everyone?" said Representative Miceli, underscoring the sentiment that it is best to mitigate traffic now, rather than later.

Town Manager Caira urged Tarr and Miceli to use their clout to persuade the MBTA to construct that fourth lane before the parking lot project moves any further.

"I think this requires the powers of political will and persuasion," Caira told the legislators.

Caira also mentioned that he could not imagine a single tax-paying resident of Wilmington who would be in favor of completely finishing the parking lot, only to tear it apart later when spaces needed to be sacrificed if the fourth lane is approved.

"The MBTA must (mitigate traffic) now," said Caira. "They can't be allowed to continue construction until mitigation takes place."

Selectman James Rooney expressed what was for him the bottom line when it came to the

DPW to have a busy summer

By CHARLOTTE COOPER
WILMINGTON The Town of Wilmington Department of Public Works has several projects lined up to keep themselves busy for most of the summer, if the designs meet the approval of the various boards. Harold Gilliam, Town Engineer, presented the proposals to the Conservation Commission.

The first of three proposals is a questionable limited project and involves installation of sidewalk and drainage devices along Wildwood St. and Middlesex Avenue. The sidewalk will be installed from Middlesex Avenue as far as necessary up to the Wildwood School. Installation of culverts and a resurfacing of Wildwood Street are also part of the project. The project will require filling of wetlands and floodplain alteration.

"The water runs off the roadway now," said Mr. Gilliam. "It slides off the road and into the vernal pool." They propose to berm the roadway to channel the water into catch basins to avoid the pool. "We'll be using 3' x 3' concrete cubes for the sidewalk. When you get near the culvert, it slopes down quickly. The cubes fit." He said that in the area of the flood zone they expect problems.

Kara gets a surprise visit

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN
WILMINGTON - The number of people continues to grow and grow for friends and neighbors and local residents who have been inspired by Kara Irving, who in her determination to conquer leukemia received a bone marrow transplant on Saturday, June 10.

In fact, the facts and figures continue to indicate that Kara is touching lives far beyond the borders of her home town of Wilmington.

Take the rock band Guster, for example. If you haven't quite heard of them yet, you can bet that your teenager has. Guster is a band of three guys who grew up in Somerville, attended Tufts University, and recently have found their way onto the music charts.

On Thursday, June 22, Guster was in Boston to be a part of the early afternoon radio program for Mix 98.5 on the FM dial. When that gig was up, the trio headed over to the Children's Hospital, where Kara will likely be staying until the middle of August. When Kara's story was brought to the attention of Guster, the best that their publicist was able to do was promise an autographed picture and a tee-shirt. That all changed, however, when the band members decided for themselves that they wanted to pay Wilmington's beloved teenager a visit.

"She was sky-high when she met Guster," says Thomas

A horse with no name

A HORSE WITH NO NAME. Pictured above is Animal Control Officer Ellen Davis' unnamed pony. She was born on Monday, June 26, at 3 a.m. She is a mini-bay colt. According to Davis, she is spunky and feisty, and she needs a name. The 23-inch, 35.8-pound horse is resting well at home. Those who wish to try and name the horse should email their suggestions to radisah@mediaone.net. The person whose name is chosen will have their picture in The Town Crier with the young horse.

A SCOOP ON A LOOSE MOOSE. Massachusetts Environmental Police Officers Rob Akin, center, Anthony Abdal-Khabir, left, and Wilmington Police Officer Steve LaRivee, right, scoop up a moose that was caught and tranquilized on High Street. The moose was then transported to Central Massachusetts and released into the wilderness.

Shooting at FedEx draws media frenzy in Wilmington

By FRANK J. AMATO
WILMINGTON-JUNE 28-Wilmington Police are continuing their investigation into an apparent shooting at FedEx, Inc., 10 Cornell Place, Wilmington. Reports are still sketchy on the specifics of the incident which occurred at noontime on Wednesday, June 28th.

According to reports, the victim, a Dorchester resident whose name has not been released by Wilmington Police was taken by ambulance to the Lahey Clinic, in Burlington. His condition was unavailable at press time.

Several off-duty detectives were called to the crime scene to process evidence.

According to Middlesex District Attorney Spokesman Anson Kaye, the State Police Unit assigned to the District Attorney's office has been called in to assist the Wilmington Police in their investigation.

By 1:00 p.m. the Cornell Place crime scene was a media frenzy, including a news helicopter and trucks and crews from all the major TV and radio stations. The media was asked off the property by FedEx employee Mark Bell, who declined to comment on the shooting.

The FedEx building is on Cornell Place, which is off Fordham Road near the Shriner's Auditorium and the North Reading line.

LONG-TERM CARE COVERAGE AND TAXES

Now that premiums for long-term-care insurance may be tax-deductible, more Americans are considering investing in this protection. But the deductions may not be worthwhile.

Current regulations divide the policies into tax-qualified and nonqualified. To get benefits from tax-qualified policies, the individual must be unable to perform at least two of the basic "activities of daily living" and a qualified health professional must certify that the conditions will continue at least 90 days.

But the maximum deduction—which may be low—is limited by the taxpayer's age and can be deducted as part of medical expenses only to the extent that they exceed 7.5 percent of adjusted gross income. Sometimes a nonqualified policy may have advantages.

Larger deductions would be available to business owners, the self-employed, even owners of S corporations, who all can deduct larger portions of their medical expenses.

Dollars-and-cents questions deserve careful answers. That's what you get at

Enjoy your summer responsibly and safely

As summer edges closer and the days get hotter, what better way to cool off than a nice, refreshing dip in the pool? Swimming is an American past time enjoyed by all who are seeking relief from the steamy days of summer. As this season heats up, we in public safety would like to share some water safety tips with you and your family.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission reports that 60-90 percent of all drownings among children 0-4 years old occurred in residential pools. More than half of these occur at the child's own home. Alcohol is a factor in 25-50 percent of all adolescent and adult drownings and a major factor in more than 50 percent of drownings involving adolescent boys.

What can you do to keep you and your family safe? The following paragraphs contain some key safety points that you should exercise at home and review with your family.

Learn to swim! Both you and your children can take family lessons to learn or improve your skills in the water. Every adult should know basic swimming skills if they are promoting water activities with their children.

No person should ever swim alone! Utilize the buddy system and always swim with a partner. Even the most experienced swimmers can succumb to water related tragedies. Whenever young children are swimming, adults must keep a watchful eye on them at all times! This means never turning away to talk with someone, apply sun tan lotion, read, answer the phone or anything else. It takes only seconds for a child to go under and drown. This also means even when using those real small plastic "kiddie" pools. Small children can drown in a five gallon bucket of water or even a bath tub!

Never consume alcohol when swimming or playing any recreational water sports. Never consume alcohol, especially when watching children. In an inebriated state, it is much easier to become distracted and lose track of your children, leaving them helpless in an emergency. Eating food and chewing gum should also be avoided as it increases the probability of choking. Also remember what mom said, wait at least 30 minutes after eating to avoid cramping.

Let me additionally note that all pool chemicals and cleaning agents should be kept in a secure facility out of reach from children. If anyone comes in contact with pool chemicals, either on skin or ingested, call 911.

You should also have poison control's number nearby in case of such an emergency (617-232-2120). This number can also be found on the front page of your phone book.

The American Red Cross recommends never using "water wings" in place of life preservers or life jackets, as they give a false sense of safety. The Red Cross further recommends that you check water depth before entering any pool. A nine foot minimum is suggested for diving.

If you own a swimming pool, be sure that a four sided isolation fence is used to surround the pool. It should also have self-closing and self-latching gates, be at least four feet tall or higher, and thoroughly separate the pool from the rest of the yard or the children's play area. Never allow children to have direct access to a pool, and never allow horse play such as running, tag, or other reckless aggressive behavior. Sometimes even adults need to be reminded of this too. Head and spinal injuries are a leading contributor to near drownings and fatal water accidents.

A new development in pool safety is alarms that actually sound when someone falls in the pool. They work by floating on the surface and when ripples in the water are created, when a child falls in for instance, an alarm sounds. These of course should never be used in place of an adult watching children, but as an added precaution in addition to a fence. Ask your local pool supplier about these for more information.

Install a phone near your pool (call 911 in all emergencies), and learn CPR. Many basic lifesaver courses are held at local community meetings and hospitals and are often free of charge.

Finally, be cautious and very watchful even in the presence of lifeguards. Often, lifeguards are overburdened and short staffed. If your child is out of site for even seconds, this could be a tragic mistake. Remember that your child is ultimately your responsibility. Know the weather forecast and watch the skies closely. New England weather can change in seconds and often produce powerful storms that are accompanied by hail, high wind, and most importantly, deadly lightning. Even a storm miles away can spawn a lightning bolt that can leap out from the outer edges of a storm and provide a very high risk to your family. At the very first sign of threatening weather, head indoors immediately.

We as public safety aren't trying to take the fun out of your summer. We just want you to enjoy it responsibly and safely. Please enjoy your summer, and if you can't stand the heat, remember it's New England...give it a few minutes!

Home Improvement Grants to be made available

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN
WILMINGTON - Is one of your summer projects to repair the roofing on your house? Are there any leaky pipes underneath your kitchen sink?

The Town's Community Development Program just might have a grant to help lend you a hand.

The town is applying with the State's Community Development Block Grant Program in hopes of receiving additional grant funds for the rehabilitation of local housing.

In anticipation of such funding, Wilmington's Community Development Program is currently accepting applications from residents who are thinking of upgrading or repairing the old home front.

Does the electrical circuitry in your home need work? Do you need a replacement in your heating system?

If you are a qualified property owner, you can stop by the Town Hall at 121 Glen Road and pick up a grant pre-application form. The town anticipates that it will award only 25 to 30 grants through this program, and all applicants will be placed on a list in the order that their application is received.

Be prepared to give the usual personal information, such as your name and address and telephone number. Also have on hand such pertinent details as the type of improvements that you'd like to make on your house; the age of the members of your household; whether or not a member of your household is disabled; and the income level of your household.

Interested? The Community Development Program would like to encourage you to submit your pre-application form no later than July 31, 2000. It can be mailed to: Community Development Program, Town Hall, 121 Glen Road, Wilmington, MA 01887. Please write "Attention: Paula Barry" on the envelope.

Dog Days approaching for licensing deadline

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN
TEWKSBURY - You've had Snoopy fixed. You've gotten Cujo declawed. Have you remembered to have their licenses renewed?

Tewksbury Town Clerk Elizabeth A. Carey has unleashed word that canine licensing fees will increase for those dog owners who do not renew the licenses of their four-legged friends on or before Saturday, July 1st. Such a price hike is in accordance with a Dog By-Law that was favorably voted upon at the 1997 Annual Town Meeting.

It breaks down like this: If you get a license for your dog between the dates of New Year's Day and March 15th, then it will cost you a mere, fetching $10. If you register your dog between the aforementioned Ides of March and July 1st, it will cost $15. If you do not get a license for your dog on or before July 1st, then you're digging yourself a hole to the tune of $25.

Want to keep your wallet out of the dog house? For your convenience, you may renew your dog's license by mail. Along with a check, include your name, your address and your telephone number. Also include your dog's name, breed, age, color, sex and current rabies certificate. Make your check payable to the Town of Tewksbury and mail it to the Town Clerk's Office at the Town Hall at 1009 Main Street. Your Year 2000 dog license, dog tag and current rabies certificate will be returned to you by mail.

Just make sure your dog is friendly to the mailman.

Tewksbury Alumni Association forming

TEWKSBURY - Plans are underway to form a Tewksbury Memorial High School Alumni Association. Graduates are encouraged to send their current address and year of graduation to: Tewksbury Memorial High School, Alumni Association, 320 Pleasant Street, Tewksbury, MA 01876.

This association will be a non-profit venture with goals of continued relationships and good will among the graduates of Tewksbury Memorial High School.

It would also provide a network system to share information with graduates concerning activities and feature events that are taking place at Tewksbury Memorial High School.

A newsletter will be prepared and mailed to interested graduates with more details this fall. For more information, please contact Principal, Anthony J. Romano at 978-640-7825.

I count my blessings that I'm surrounded by such wonderful, caring people.

Dear Editor:
I would like to thank all my neighbors for their help Saturday evening, June 10, when a drunken, female driver drove through the family room of my house. I was overwhelmed by your immediate response to board up the hole in the side of my house and offer information to the police about the accident.

If it weren't for some of you, this woman would have gotten away with what could have been a tragic accident if my family was home. As I now begin to sort through my belongings and prepare for months of extensive renovation work, I count my blessings that I'm surrounded by such wonderful, caring people.

Boston College graduates three local students

WILMINGTON - Three Wilmington residents were awarded degrees from Boston College during commencement exercises held there on Monday, May 22.

Brian Carroll, the son of David and Ruth Carroll, of Gowing Road, and Joan DeMarco, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeMarco, of Crystal Road, earned their degrees magna cum laude from the School of Management.

Kathryn Senesi, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Senesi, of Flagstaff Road, earned her degree cum laude from the School of Education.

Papazian named Treasurer at her alma mater

WILMINGTON - Mary Papazian, Salem State College Class of 1988, of Wilmington, was elected Treasurer of Salem State College Alumni Association Board of Directors at the association's annual meeting on Saturday, June 10.

Elaine Dacey, Class of '64, of Winthrop, was re-elected president; Anthony Guerriero, Class of '92, of Revere, was named secretary; Richard Durgan, Class of '69, of Manchester, NH, was named historian; and Alfred Viselli, Class of '59, of Salem, immediate past president.

Newly-elected members of the board were Shawn Lerner, Class of '95, Salem; and John C. Pastore, Jr., Class of '94, Westfield.

Wilmington's blood drive July 3 at Methodist Church

WILMINGTON - The American Red Cross is asking all eligible blood donors in the Wilmington area to give blood on Monday, July 3, when the bloodmobile, comes to the United Methodist Church, 87 Church Street. Donor hours are 1 to 7 p.m.

According to Cathy Pray, Director, "Only five out of every 100 people give blood and the number of new donors decreased dramatically last year. First time donors are urgently needed to replace donors who have moved away or become ineligible to donate."

The best way to give blood for the first time is to go with a friend who is experienced in the donation process. New donors usually find the procedure easy and painless and most will come back regularly to donate. "The biggest obstacle seems to be overcoming that initial fear," said Cathy. "That's why we're counting on our regular donors to help by taking a friend to this blood drawing."

Most people can give blood through the American Red Cross. Potential donors must be at least 17 years of age, in good health and weight over 110 pounds. In most cases, donors may give if they are on medication, but should know the names of the medications.

For more information, call the American Red Cross at 1-800-448-3543.

Only one Friday this week

An error occurred in the Kiwanis Fourth of July Supplement. It seems that there will (according to the published schedule) be two Fridays this week.

Actually, the first Friday listed will be called "Thursday" this year, and perhaps in the future. Every evening of Wilmington's Fourth of July celebrations sports a meal, presented by a local civic organization. THURSDAY will be the Rotary Club's Barbecue with Chicken, Pork Ribs, Potato Salad, Corn on the Cob etc. beginning at 6:00 p.m. Also the Horseshoes Tournament and a Road Race at 6:00 and 6:30 respectively. From 7:30 - 9:30 there will be a concert by "Roundabout". FRIDAY the Sons of Italy will serve their famous Chinese dinner with Pork Lo Mein, Chicken Fingers, Spareribs, Beef Teriyaki. Events on tap are the Horseshoes continuing at 6:00, the Hospital Bed Race also at 6:00, a Ladies 2-Mile Walk at 7:00 and a concert from 6:00 to 11:00.

Of course the carnival will be open during the evening both days.

Caveat Mangé Most dinners sell out so stop by the Fourth of July Headquarters early to purchase your tickets. The HQ will be open to sell tickets and other great stuff (t-shirts, sweats, and many other things) 9 a.m. - 11 p.m. Thursday and Friday. Beginning Saturday, July 1, 2 & 3 they'll be there from 7 a.m. - 11 p.m.

Leonard Pierce elected senior partner at Hale and Dorr

WILMINGTON - Attorney Leonard A. Pierce of Wilmington, has been elected a senior partner at the Boston law firm of Hale and Dorr LLP.

Pierce's practice focuses on the representation of investment advisers, investment companies, and other collective investment vehicles. He also has expertise with mergers and acquisitions.

Pierce, who lives on Presidential Drive with his wife Marybeth, received a J.D. degree with honors from George Washington University National Law Center, and a B.S. with high honors from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Hospital Bed race is on Friday, June 30

Are you a team kind of player? Do you enjoy a good run for the gold? Well, this could be your opportunity.

The Wilmington Fourth of July Committee is seeking more competition in the Hospital Bed Race. Families, neighbors or any group can enter. The team consists of four pushers and one "Bed Pilot." The pushers race to the end of a 200 foot course with bed in tow then reverse and haul the bed back to the cheers of hundreds of fans.

The beds are supplied by the Fourth of July Committee. Many teams dress in theme costumes. Although no points are given for festooned racers, it certainly does add to the festivities. This is one of the most popular events to watch, so if you have a bunch of friends who might go for this get to the 4th of July building on or before 5 p.m. on Friday, June 30 to sign up. Oh, the best part is it's FREE!

3 on 3 B-Ball Sunday, July 2 at the Common

WILMINGTON - Are you a Shaq or a Michael or would you like to be? The Fourth of July Committee is seeking Wilmington's best basketball players for some 3 on 3 action on Sunday, July 2. The team members must be from Wilmington, or work in Wilmington or be related to someone from Wilmington.

Player categories are ages: 10-11; 12-13; 14-17; 18 and up; and 40 and over. This is one of the most popular events to watch, so if you have a couple of friends who might go for this get to the 4th of July building on or before 5 p.m. on Sunday, July 2 to sign up. Oh, the best part is it's FREE!

"WADING" FOR THE FUN TO START. Anthony LaBella, age 2, kicks off his second summer ever with an up-to-the-knees dip in Silver Lake in Wilmington. The Silver Lake Beach opened to the public on Saturday, June 24. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

The Silver Saddle Band is: (l-r), Tim Cook, drums and vocals; Duncan MacKenzie, keyboards and vocals; Fred Ellsworth, lead guitar and vocals; Rick Hilton, brass and vocals; and Andy Perry, pedal steel guitar and vocals.

Roads to be closed during the fireworks Monday evening

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Police Department plans to close vehicular access to the Town Common area on the night of Monday, July 3, 2000 at 9 p.m. This will be accomplished by closing Church Street (Route 62) at Main Street (Route 38), Middlesex Avenue at Main Street and Clark Street at Main Street.

These roads will be closed until the end of the scheduled fireworks display which will begin at 9:30 p.m. and should be completed at approximately 10 p.m.

The Wilmington 4th of July Committee will have shuttle buses running from various locations throughout the town. These buses are scheduled to begin running at 5 p.m. on the evening of Monday, July 3. The pickup and drop off areas will be located at the North Intermediate School, the Public Buildings Department, the Woburn Street School, the Wildwood Street School, and Senior Center, the Town Hall, St.

Dorothy's Church, Town Beach, the Shawsheen School, St. Thomas Church, Deming Way, and the Boutwell Street School. There will be additional parking located at Fred F. Cain Inc., 580 Main Street. Bus service will begin at this location at approximately 9 p.m.

People are encouraged to take advantage of these parking and shuttle bus services. For more information contact the 4th of July Committee at 978-657-8081.

4th of July festivities ready for rocket's red glare

September but it's really a year-long process. Fourth of July Committee member Richard Searloss said, "We are completely independent from the town so it takes much work from a lot of people."

The Committee usually comprised of 150 or so is charged with organizing the entire celebration. It receives no money from the town and actually contributes some money to provide police support. Expenses are paid through carnival fees, charitable organizations, merchandise and a number of other fundraisers.

The Fourth's events have also become a primary fund-raising source to many local community organizations. Organizations like Boy Scout Troop 56 have been pitching their tents right up on Middlesex Avenue to sell ice cream, water and other delicacies to participants for years now.

"I remember selling ice cream with the Boy Scouts as a kid and for the past few years I've been helping out with my church's (the United Methodist Church) stand," Smith said. "It's a real money maker and sometimes the only money maker for these organizations. By treating yourself, you are helping the community."

The "Big Night" for sales and participants is July third. However, that doesn't stop four or five thousand from attending every other night. A popular return this year is Family Day held on Saturday, July 1. Beginning at 7 a.m., parents can drag their kids out of bed for a Doll Carriage race, blueberry pie eating contest, or a pony ride. Family Day also provides an economic solution to parents' woes. Lunch is only $2.00 thanks to the generous support of the Community Fund and the whole family can hit the carnival from noon to five for $7.00 per person. For parents who want to avoid the crowd on the third, fireworks will light up the Wilmington skyline at 9 P.M. that night.

The real spectacular display, however, will be the night before the Pops kick off their celebration in Boston. Fireworks vendor Tellstar Displays will return to provide its dazzling display of pyrotechnical brilliance. The bombs bursting in air will be accompanied by the returning sound of the Middlesex Concert band. Upwards of 40,000 people attend the Fun on the Fourth's main event.

Because of the enormity of the crowd on this night, transportation will be provided to and from locales in town. A fleet of buses will be available throughout the day to shuttle people around town.

"Residents should make sure they park their cars in the designated areas," Searloss said. "It can become hectic on the third and the best option for everyone is to take the bus and leave their cars elsewhere."

Searloss and the rest of the Fourth of July Committee did add a special event to this year's festivities. They wanted to remind everyone that the Fourth isn't just about dazzling fireworks, carnivals and fried dough. The reason we celebrate is sometimes lost in all the shimmer. Earlier in the year, the Committee sponsored a trip to Lexington and Concord for elementary students in Wilmington schools. Here students learned exactly why and what we celebrate on the Fourth of July - the commemoration of our birth as a nation through the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Wilmington has had her John Hancock engraved on the Fourth for many years and hopefully will for many more.

Correction: In last week's Town Crier Kiwanis supplement two Fridays were put on the schedule. The festivities begin on Thursday, June 29 with a dinner sponsored by the Rotary Club. Friday's events begin with a Sons of Italy dinner. Also, buses will run on July 3 not July 4.

DPW to have a busy summer

"I spoke with Heidi Davis at the [Department of Environmental Protection] and she concurred with the regulations interpretation. This project doesn't qualify as a limited project," said John Keeley, Assistant Director of Planning and Conservation. He said that this means the project will require full mitigation, which includes wetland replication and floodplain storage replacement.

"We need a revision date on the plans," said Mr. Keeley. "We also need an accurate account of the total wetland alteration and floodplain alteration."

Several other issues were outstanding and the commission voted to continue the public hearing to July 5th.

The second is a town drainage project on North Street. Apparently, inadequate pipe was installed by a developer several years ago under a swale. The commission never received a filing for the project and now the pipe is blocking drainage. The project is to install a catch basin in a wetland upgradient of the existing pipe. The pipe will be removed and replaced with a bigger and longer culvert. The culvert will connect to the existing drainage system on North Street, eventually discharging into Lubbers Brook.

"The house [at 3 North Street] was built in the [midnineteen eighties] and the land was cleared," said Mr. Gilliam. "When it rains, the water ponds in the backyard. A catch basin seems to be the only way to keep the backyards from flooding. I didn't see any other way to alleviate the backyard flooding."

"I consider this area to be Bordering Vegetative Wetlands right up to the existing catch basin on North Street," Mr. Keeley wrote. "Because of hydric soils and surficial evidence of hydrology." His suggestion to curb the problem is to remove the existing pipe and restore the vegetated swale.

Even though almost 4,000 square feet of the wetland areas will be disturbed, there will be no wetland replication or mitigation according to Mr. Gilliam. The town's engineer does not consider the disturbed areas to be wetlands and the proposed mitigation would dry the area up.

The commission voted to continue the hearing until July 5th to discuss the outstanding issues.

Kara gets a surprise visit

Convery, a family friend who has worked tirelessly for Kara's cause. "Guster is her and her friends' favorite band, so now she has a great story that she can tell everyone."

Convery says that the surprise visit from her favorite band was as helpful to her spirit and body as the bone marrow she received just two weeks ago.

Says Convery, "At this point in her procedure, positives like the Guster visit are crucial. We'll take all the positives that we can get."

Here, then, is more positive information: The number of individuals who have donated their blood and registered with the bone marrow registry, all in the name of Kara, has swelled from 2,708 to 2,836 in a little more than one month's time.

As you may recall, a hugely successful bone marrow drive was held at the Wilmington High School on Mother's Day last month. Three thousand people attended such an important event, 2,708 of them donating a tablespoon of their own blood to determine whether or not they could be Kara's match.

On May 30, Tim Irving, Kara's uncle, held another bone marrow drive at his place of business on Stuart Street in Boston. Eighty coworkers and friends made donations. On June 13, Kathy Irving, Kara's aunt and Tim's wife, had a bone marrow drive at her company in Waltham, amassing an impressive 48 donations of blood.

Says Convery, "As far as the bone marrow that was transplanted to her on the tenth goes, everything is so far, so good. Kara's body is accepting the bone marrow that has been given to her, and that is the key to everything."

intersection. "The goal is to clean up Wilmington center," Rooney reminded Tarr and Miceli. In a response to the MBTA's own concerns, he added, "If doing so calls for less parking spaces, then it calls for less parking spaces."

Selectman Robert Cain remained wary and skeptical. "If they (the MBTA) do not have a design for a fourth lane, then that means it's not going to happen," said Cain.

Senator Tarr and Representative Miceli assured the board that they will continue to press Secretary Sullivan for traffic mitigation that would benefit the Town of Wilmington in the best possible way.

Senator Tarr remained optimistic and diplomatic.

"I think we can find a way to support the T and the town," said Tarr.

Columbian Squires off to a grand start

TEWKSBURY - At a recent meeting of Fr. Coppens Council 4336, Knights of Columbus, Tewksbury, Deputy Grand Knight Joe Cozza reported that the Columbian Squires Circle trying to establish themselves in our community lacked operating funds.

In addition, robes, a gavel and numerous other start up costs were, as yet, unfunded.

Shortly thereafter in the members' room an amazing and heart warming "happening" took place. In social conversation among numerous Past Grand Knights and dedicated members, the subject of their financial needs arose again. One gentleman immediately offered $100, on the spot to buy at least one of the needed robes. This spontaneous reaction sparked a 15 minute fund raising frenzy that left D.G.K. Cozza stunned. The result was a $700 operating fund to kick off the programs. Some members and some past Grand Knights donated $100 each. Numerous others kicked in $50, $25, $20.00 etc. In addition to donating money himself, inside guard Dave Pelligrini also donated his tips for bartending that evening.

Among the other generous Knights were P.G.K. Andy Hines, P.G.K. Roland Desharnais, P.G.K. Bob Jamieson, P.G.K. Jim McGlinchey, P.G.K. Tom Casey, P.G.K. Charlie Doherty, brothers, Al Balestrier, Chuck Perry, Vinny Tortorelli, Phil Francis, and pleased to be included new Grand Knight Gordie Raymond.

The Squires is a young Catholic men's organization for ages 12 to 18 who learn many valuable organizational skills, provide community service, enjoy social activities, work closely with the church and, in effect, are the "stepping stones" of the Knights of Columbus which becomes available to them at age 18.

The Fr. Sullivan Circle #1049 has a small group of start up members, but is growing rapidly.

For more information contact D.G.K. Joe Cozza, 978-988-0019, Deacon William Emerson of St. William's Church or Grand Knight Elect Gordie Raymond, 978-657-8390.

Ocean front coming to Wilmington Library

WILMINGTON - Children ages five and up are invited to explore the frontier of the ocean at the library with the New England Aquarium on Thursday, July 13. Children will have the opportunity to meet and handle a collection of saltwater tide pool creatures. The program features unique tabletop exhibits that recreate salt marsh, sandy beach and rocky coast habitats. Aquarium staff will be on hand to answer all curious questions. Please call the library at 658-2967 to reserve your free tickets for one of the following shows on July 13, 10:00, 10:40 and 11:20 a.m. and noon. Thank you to the Friends of the Library for generously funding this program.

Tide Pool stories and crafts in the Children's Room will run simultaneously with the New England Aquarium program.

Blood drive July 11 at Tewksbury K of C

TEWKSBURY - The American Red Cross is asking all eligible blood donors in the Tewksbury area to give blood on Tuesday, July 11, 2000 when the bloodmobile will be at the K of C Hall, 2068 Main St. Donor hours are 2 to 8 p.m.

According to Director Cathy Pray, "only five out of every 100 people give blood, and the number of new donors decreased dramatically last year. First-time donors are urgently needed to replace donors who have moved away or become ineligible to donate."

The best way to give blood for the first time is to go with a friend who is experienced in the donation process. New donors usually find the procedure easy and painless and most will come back on a regular basis to donate. "The biggest obstacle seems to be overcoming that initial fear," said Cathy. "That's why we're counting on our regular donors to help by taking a friend to this blood drawing."

Most people can give blood through the American Red Cross. Potential donors must be at least 17 years of age, in good health and weight over 110 pounds. In most cases, donors may give if they are on medication, but should know the names of these medications.

For more information, call the American Red Cross at 1-800-448-3543.

Tewksbury Senior Topics

TEWKSBURY - A lecture on "Osteoporosis" will be held in the crafts room of the Senior Center at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, June 29 with Kim Caulfield. All are welcome to attend.

An activities meeting will also be held on the 29th beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the crafts room. Plans for the upcoming months will be discussed at this meeting. Why not go on down with your suggestions?

Those traveling to Newport, R.I. Saturday, July 1, should take note that departure time from the Senior Center is 11:30 a.m. If you find that you are unable to attend, please contact Carol Hazel or Linda Brabant as soon as possible. There is a waiting list for this trip. Your cooperation may enable someone else to attend.

Monday, July 3, hot lunches and meals on wheels will not be served nor will any classes be held. Meals on wheels recipients should use their weekend package. The Senior Center will also be closed Tuesday, July 4. We have been forgetting to mention that bocce activities have begun on Wednesday mornings. Joe Santoro has been anxiously awaiting for the return of his teammates!

Last Monday was the last day of the tap dance class. Tap classes will resume September 11, after summer break.

The seniors will be holding their next Breakfast Benefit Sunday, July 9 from 7:30 to 11 a.m. The menu will include pancakes, scrambled eggs, bacon, homefries, beans, cinnamon bread and beverages. Tickets may be obtained prior to the breakfast at the Senior Center or at the door at the following prices: adults $4; children 12 and under $2; and toddlers, free. All proceeds will benefit the Senior Center Building Fund.

Another event being held to raise funds for the Senior Center Building Fund is the upcoming Friends of the Elderly Golf Connection Tournament which will be held at the Andover Country Club Monday, September 11. Response to this year's tournament has been very good. For more information, one may call Mary Ann Wareham at 851-3344 or Linda Brabant at the Senior Center.

The last day to register for the July SERVE package will be Thursday, July 6 at the Senior Center from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. During the months of July and August, SERVE is featuring a great steak special. For more information call Mary Ann Wareham at 851-3344.

Our Senior Citizen softball team will be playing at Memorial Field, Livingston Street Park Thursday, July 6 and Monday, July 10. Games will start at 10 a.m. on both days. Why not take along a beach chair and root them on!

Monday, July 10, is also the date of the next Senior Center Cootie Party which will begin at 1 p.m. in the main hall. This is a fun afternoon with lots of laughs.

The following trips still had openings at the time this article was submitted: Yokens/Hampton Beach, Friday, July 14, at $5 per person. There are home pickups on this trip; George's Island, Monday, July 24, at $7 per person (one must pack a lunch on this trip); and, the Mohegan Sun for three hours and a stop off at Captain John's for lobster bake or prime rib on August 14 at $44 per person.

Trips that are full include: Foxwood, Monday, July 17 and the Demarais' home in Maine, July 29. One may place his/her name on the waiting list for these trips.

The next monthly dance will be held Friday, July 21. The evening will include a buffet at 6:30 p.m. and dancing to the sounds of the Reflections.

It is hoped that everyone will have a great Fourth of July remembering that those colors of red, white and blue represent our independence - our freedom - a privilege not shared by everybody in our world.

Obituaries

Frederick D. Downey 35 years with Roadway Express

WILMINGTON - Frederick D. Downey, 66, of Wilmington, died Monday, June 26, 2000 at the Vencor North Shore Hospital in Peabody.

Born in Boston, he was the son of the late William T. and the late Mary (O'Hara) Downey. He served in the U.S. Army's 82nd Airborne, during the Korean Conflict.

He lived in Wilmington for many years and prior to retirement was employed for 35 years as a shipper for Roadway Express in North Reading and was a member Teamsters Local #25 and of the Wilmington Senior Citizens.

Flora Stoico retired bookkeeper for Baker's Dozen Donut

TEWKSBURY - Flora (Forcellese) (DiBello) Stoico, 80, died Saturday, June 24, 2000 at Saints Memorial Medical Center in Lowell. She was the widow of George DiBello who died in 1944 and Anthony Stoico who died in 1975.

Born in East Boston September 24, 1919, a daughter of the late Peter and Bice (D'Amico) Forcellese and was a long lifelong resident of East Boston until moving to the Saunders Circle Housing Community in Tewksbury in 1996. She attended East Boston schools graduating from East Boston High School with the Class of 1937.

She was a long time communicant of St. Lazarus Church of East Boston, for the past four years St. Robert Bellarmine Church of West Andover and was a member of Saint William's Church Sodality of Tewksbury. Prior to retirement she worked as a bookkeeper for Baker's Dozen Donut Company and Riley's Roast Beef Company which were founded and operated by her family.

Mrs. Stoico enjoyed many activities, including reading and knitting and was a member of the Tewksbury Golden Age Club.

She is survived by her daughter, Geraldine A. Rubico and her husband Anthony J. of Tewksbury, her brother, Tito Forcellese and his wife Linda of Somerville; two grandchildren, Anthony J. Rubico Jr. and his wife Kassie and Sandra A. Rubico all of Chelmsford; three great-grandchildren, Brittany, Kristina and Emily Rubico. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

She was the sister of the late Olga Rauseo formerly of E. Boston and Norma Tucci formerly of Somerville.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the Farmer & Dee Funeral Home of Lee Street, Tewksbury followed by her funeral mass at St. Robert Bellarmine Church and burial at St. Michael's Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial contributions made to the American Heart Association, 20 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701 will be appreciated.

THE SURVIVORS AFFAIR

A funeral director is more the survivor than the mourner. He is the one who stands with the family through the process of grief. He is the one who works with the family to make the funeral a meaningful experience. He is the one who helps the family to understand the process of death and the funeral home. He is the one who helps the family to understand the process of death and the funeral home. He is the one who helps the family to understand the process of death and the funeral home.

BROOKSIDE NURSERY SCHOOL

WOBURN STREET • WILMINGTON, MA 01887

Dear Cristina,

Our warmest thanks to Cristina Warren, owner of Brookside Nursery School in Wilmington. As we complete our fourth straight year at Brookside, we wish to say good-bye. Brookside has provided for each of my children a warm, safe and stimulating environment. They have learned basic skills, social and educational, a foundation that will last them a lifetime. I would be remiss, if I did not mention her incredible staff. Mrs. Virginia Hastings, Mrs. Bonnie Murphy, and Mrs. Sharon DiFiore.

WE WILL MISS YOU ALL!!

Art Show 2000 results

Though the weather was perfect for a day at the beach, many local residents opted for some artistic viewing at the Wilmington Arts Center. The 20th annual Art Show, sponsored by the Wilmington Council for the Arts, was held over the weekend. And it did not disappoint. There were over 130 watercolors, oils, pastels, acrylics, photographs, sculpture and student work. There were not enough ribbons to go around for all the excellent work there. Three judges, all in the art field or working artists themselves, worked long and hard to be fair and impartial. Linda Price Sneddon, Edith Socolov, and Cris Stone were the judges this year - two from Boston and one from Gloucester. The Arts Council works very hard to find competent and non-local people to be judges. There are different judges every year. Here are the winners.

The Council's Choice award went to photographer Barrett Bacall for his photograph "Raining Buckets", a finely textured ambiguous image. This is the first year a photograph has received this award, which indicates the quality of the photography exhibit.

First Place in the watercolor division went to David Maison for his untitled painting, a highly contrasted piece with lovely soft colors and dark edges. Susan Manning O'Brian was second with her very popular painting "Shipwreck". Marion Martorella was third with her soft and dreamy "Looking at Clouds". Merit awards went to Jane Crane, Valeria Giordano, Louis Doto, Kristine Ferrigno and Madeleine DeSesa.

In the oils and acrylics category, David Mitchell won First Place for his mysterious "Woman with Umbrella", who looked out at the audience with a disdainful expression. Linda Maletz was second for her oil painting "Asparagus Fields", a sunny Italian landscape. Leda Sullivan was third with her oil painting "Still Life with Lace", lace so fine, you could reach out and touch it. Merit awards went to Gayle Levee and Barbara Groom.

First place in the Photography exhibit went to Barrett Bacall for his photograph "Summer's Gold", a close-up of a sunflower with swirls of pollen. Robert Ford was second with his photograph "Swiss Mist", a characterization of a Swiss gentleman. Olivia Zamboni won a third place ribbon with an untitled photograph of a Mercury automobile. Merit awards went to Linda Molloy and Paul Swanson.

In the Other/Mixed Media category, Jonathan Donahue won first place for his amusing "Thin Ice", a severe warning about ice fishing! Bob McCaffrey won second place for his "Japanese Tree", a tree with a very interesting oriental look.

Marge Elia won a third place ribbon with her textured painting "Cherry Branches", a very graphic and colorful piece.

The student show included the work by the students of Louise Anderson and Gayle Levee. These two fine instructors teach at the Arts Center. In this category, Patti Ann Onessimo won first place for her watercolor "Live to Ride", a handsome motorcycle! Second went to Jean Crowley for her lovely watercolor "Zinnias". Andrea Houser won third for her oil "Reflections", a pleasant morning scene.

The Wilmington Arts Council thanks all the artists for participating in the art show and making the 20th one a great success. While everyone is enjoying their summer, the council is planning their programs for the fall. We will be offering five art classes in the fall, painting, drawing and photography. Concerts and demonstrations are in the works. The Council will have more information in the Town Crier and will also be sending out a newsletter in the August. If you take classes at the Arts Center or participated in the show in the last two years, you are on our new mailing list. If you would like to be on our list for a newsletter, send a postcard to the town hall (Wilmington Arts Council, Town Hall, Glen Road, Wilmington) or call Jane Crane at 658-9798.

Deputy Graham training driver safety for Tewksbury Fire Department

BOSTON - Fighting fires is not the only danger facing a firefighter. A full 25 percent of all firefighter fatalities occur in motor vehicle accidents as the firefighter is speeding to the emergency.

A new safety initiative, an emergency vehicle driving program, sponsored by Massachusetts Interlocal Insurance Association (MIIA) may prove to be an effective tool in reducing the number of emergency vehicle accidents that kill and injure thousands of firefighters and civilians annually.

Deputy Chief Jim Graham of the Tewksbury Fire Department was one of 22 firefighters who recently participated in the driver training offered by MIIA at the Devens Conference Center.

MIIA offered the two day comprehensive driver training course at no cost to its members. Deputy Chief Graham was trained with the latest techniques in driving emergency vehicles. In addition, Deputy Chief Graham is now qualified to train other emergency vehicle drivers in his department. The driving course, presented in a train-the-trainer format, consisted of both classroom instruction and hands-on training and concluded with a rigorous test. The first section of the course covered topics ranging from the importance of personnel selection, the necessity for and development of Standard Operating Guidelines, emergency vehicle inspection and maintenance, and the changing legal climate for emergency service organizations.

The hands-on portion of the course measured driving skill, knowledge, and judgment. Following a day of classroom instruction, participants engaged in actual hands-on training to determine their level of driver proficiency. Emergency vehicle operators were required to negotiate eight driving exercises without striking any cones on the course. Upon completion of the two day course, successful participants were awarded eight emergency medical service credits.

Member response to the program has been so favorable that MIIA is sponsoring additional programs. "I encourage every community to take advantage of this opportunity," said MIIA Loss Control Manager, Jeffrey Siena. "Initiating an emergency vehicle driver program is the best way to ensure that your organizations emergency personnel perform in a safe and professional manner."

MIIA is the private, non-profit arm of the Massachusetts Municipal Association. Municipal insurance is MIIA's only business. MIIA's mission is to serve the insurance needs of cities, towns, and districts in the Commonwealth. The key to MIIA's strength is its partnership with local government. MIIA's governing boards are composed of municipal officials who provide guidance to its many programs. MIIA's innovative loss control program is an integral part of MIIA's services to its members.

Did the Ku Klux Klan meet in Wilmington?

WILMINGTON - Could it be that the Ku Klux Klan once held a meeting in Wilmington? That was the story printed on the front page of the Boston Sunday Globe of July 27, 1924. The directions to the location would place the meeting off Wildwood Street near Woburn Street.

The headline of the story, which appeared just above the fold read: Reporters Guests of Ku Klux Klan. A subhead read: Meet in Mosquito-Infested Swamp at Wilmington. A second subhead read: Curley hasn't chance of famous snowball, says organizer. The next of the story read:

Special Dispatch to the Globe. Wilmington, July 26 - Mosquitoes of a particularly large and vicious nature alone disturbed the "secret" meeting of the Ku Klux Klan here this afternoon and evening.

The Ku Kluxers were prepared for trouble. There was a rumor around Wilmington that a band of men and boys from Boston would break up the meeting, which was held in a swamp on the outskirts of town. Therefore numerous husky guards were prepared to repel the invaders at any cost. But the only invaders were bands of hungry mosquitoes, which received the Ku Klux novitiates and a group of Boston newspaper men with delight.

The "secret" meeting was well advertised. All of the newspapermen had received instructions as follows: "Go to Reading sq., take the Lowell Road from the square and go 2.7 miles to the crossroads with the blacksmith shop on the left. Turn right, to .3 mile turn left and obey guard. Look for a white arrow. Go the way the tail of the arrow points. Guards all have paper in their hands."

It was a devious route and there were plenty of brambles on the way. The mosquitoes that weren't too busy welcoming the Klan members sent out reception squads for the benefit of the newspapermen.

When the newspaper men arrived, they saw a few dozen "novitiates" standing around forlornly-slapping mosquitoes. They were mostly boys in their teens.

A man with a loud voice announced that he had leased the field to the Klan, but he denied ownership of the mosquitoes. The Klan organizer talked to the newspapermen. He was bland, carefully dressed, and looked something like a Creole. He said he was from Texas and a National officer in the Klan. He insisted on keeping his name a secret, but talked long and enthusiastically about the power and magic of the great Klan. He had a lot to say about Protestants, the white race, and America - but he looked like a foreigner.

"The Klan wants to run the country, but in the interests of the Klan, not America," he said. "The Klan was responsible for the passage of the Johnson Immigration Bill." Somebody asked him if the Klan would oppose the election of Mayor Curley as Governor of Massachusetts.

The organizer looked pain and grieved. He slapped two mosquitoes before he retorted, "Curley hasn't the chance of the proverbial snowball." He said later that the Klan had defeated one Mayor in Kentucky, and has elected the Cleveland Mayor. He informed the newspapermen that the Klan will elect the next President, but he refrained from telling who the next President will be.

Golden Age Club

TEWKSBURY - This past week the first meeting was held with our newly elected board of directors. On behalf of the board I would like to thank all of you for electing us. We know the next two years will be better than the last two.

First on the agenda is the renewal of the memberships. Everyone must renew for the next two years June 2000 to June 2002. When you renew, please check your identification card for an update. Also for those who have not as yet had their picture taken for our files, please do so. Any Tewksbury resident 60 years or over may join the Golden Age Club. A spouse between ages 55 and 60 years may become members without voting privileges.

Any member who has moved to another town may still be a member provided they have kept up their membership.

Cookout: Our annual cookout will be held July 11 at noon. The fee for this will be $5. Only paid up members will be able to attend this function. We will be cooking out and eating in.

After lunch we will be having entertainment by Tammy's Dance Connection of Tewksbury. This is always a sell out so don't be left out. Tickets will be sold daily between 10 a.m. and noon and 1 and 3 p.m. To be sure there is someone there to renew your membership and purchase your ticket, please call the Senior Center, 640-4480.

Trips: Those interested in going to California Wine Country cruise, deposits are due.

Our deepest sympathies to the families of our life time members Edna Smith and Walter Gruca. Also sympathies to the family of our member Beatrice Boucher. We would also like to express our sympathy to our members Maryann Wareham and Gerry Christoffels both of whom lost their sisters. And our member Leonora Peterson on the loss of her daughter. They will all be sadly missed.

Happy birthday and happy anniversary to everyone celebrating in June.

Rose McKenna, President

Summer fun on the old diamond

Northeast Baseball falls, 2-1

On Sunday night, the Wilmington Northeast Baseball team wasted a terrific pitching performance by Brian Binkoski as they lost to Stoneham, 2-1, at WHS. Binkoski went the distance giving up just four hits, one earned run, while he walked one and struck out eight.

Wilmington trailed 1-0 after the first inning but tied the game at one in the sixth. Tewksbury native Ron Olson singled and went to third on a double by Binkoski. Clean-up hitter Bill Hafner followed with a sacrifice fly to drive in Olson with the only run.

Stoneham managed two hits and a run in the top of the seventh to go up 2-1, as the 'Cats went down in order in the seventh.

Hafner, Jason Stark, Olson and Binkoski were the lone batters with a hit. Stark made five putouts in left field.

Senior Pony

Wilmington defeated Reading, 16-6, thanks to an offensive explosion on Saturday. The 'Cats scored six runs in the fourth inning, and then added three more in the fifth and five more in the sixth before cruising in the seventh for the win.

Catcher Joe Downs' booming lead-off triple in the top of the fourth inning set off a Wildcat hit parade that the Rocket pitchers were unable to stop. In all, the Wildcats pounded out 14 hits during the game with multiple hit games coming from Jon Stark, Bill Sinopoli, Sean Godding, Greg Buck and Mike Robar.

Wilmington also benefited from 11 walks, including Derek Montalto collecting four of them. Bill Sinopoli went the distance on the mound collecting his second win of the summer season. He overcame the early shoddy fielding of his teammates and collected 10 strikeouts and allowed only two walks and 9 hits over 7 innings.

THE SINOPOLI FAMILY WAS PRETTY BUSY ON SATURDAY as both Bobby (pictured above and below) and older brother Billy pitched for their respective teams, and both defeated tough Reading teams. Bobby pitched for the 13-year old Pony League team in their 11-3 win. He also helped out (below) with his baserunning skills as he beat the throw and scored a run. Billy pitched for the Senior Pony League team and he also defeated Reading, 16-6. (Photos by Joe Hakey).

Jimmy Fund tryouts, July 5 and 6

Summer tryouts for the Jimmy Fund 9 + 10 year-old baseball team, as well as the 11-year old team will be held this week.

The 9 and 10 year old tryout will be held on July 5th at 5:30 pm at Palmer Field, behind Town Hall on Glen Road.

Tryouts for the 11 year olds will be held JULY 6, at 5:30 at the same field.

This will be the only tryout for both teams. The teams will play a season that will last 4-5 weeks including traveling to near by towns.

Grading for the tryouts will consist of defense, offense, speed and throwing.

Any questions or further information can be answered by calling Matt DeLucia at 657-5409.

Under 11A Boys finish season at states

They came from every corner of the state, descending upon this quiet town nestled among the Berkshires. Each team a champion in their own right, here on a quest to lay claim to being the best of the best. The Wilmington U11 Boys A team faced the additional challenge of putting their opponents a full year of growth and experience. A challenge they had already successfully met to advance this far.

The game 1 opponent was a well-balanced squad from the Coastal League. Early actions saw both teams making strong advances into enemy territory. A serious threat in front of Wilmington's goal was deflected by the quick legwork of Greg Stewart. Another breakaway deep in Wilmington's zone turned into a footrace between two Coastal players and the ever-reliable Brian Johnson.

As usual, Johnson claimed the prize and sent the ball safely back across mid-field. From there Wilmington began to flex its own muscles. An impressive display of passing and ball control led to a Josh Maso blast from the center that evaded the charging Coastal goalie and slipped into the right corner of the net, putting Wilmington ahead 1-0 at the half.

The second half continued along the same path, with Wilmington mounting several assaults only to be frustrated by some fine goalkeeping. Finally, Brendan DeMango blocked a pass with his broad chest, and without hesitation launched a rocket that beat the goalie and put Wilmington up by 2. The response from Coastal was befitting that of a championship caliber team.

For the final 10 minutes Wilmington was subjected to a desperate offensive onslaught by Coastal. It was then that goalkeeper Pat Ryan emerged as a giant. Corner kicks on successive plays were stopped on leaping saves by Ryan. After a brief sojourn into Coastal's end, the ball returned on a long lead pass pursued by three Coastal forwards moving at mach speed.

The lone Wilmington hope was Derek Hanson streaking in from behind. And although his strides were half the distance of his antagonists, his will was three that. At the final instant, Hanson was able to knock the ball wide staying off a dangerous breakaway.

The pressure by Coastal continued unabated until, with mere seconds left, they found an open man less than 10 yards away from the net. A hush fell over the crowd and some turned away, as the point blank shot zoomed toward the goal. Surely, they thought, this would tie the game. But that was not the script that Pat Ryan had read that day. Ryan emerged from the dust much like Wyatt Earp exiting the O.K. Corral - tested, but unscathed - holding both the ball and victory firmly in his hands.

Next up was the local representative from the Berkshires. Despite the home court advantage, Wilmington was able to dominate the action. Less than 10 minutes into the contest a line drive off the foot by Richie Barry gave Wilmington a 1-0 advantage. A few moments later, C.J. Jeannette stealthily intercepted an attempted breakout and fired a shot that just missed doubling the lead.

The intensity level of tournament competition was apparent on the next series of plays. First, a perfect lead pass sent Justin Patrie charging in on the goal. The Berkshire net mender, in turn, bolted toward the ball. With reckless abandon, both players converged, resulting in a violent collision in an instant after the save. A minute later it was Chris Azevedo sacrificing his body for the sake of the team on a similar assault on net. And when Berkshire attempted to breakout, Shane Foley was there to swoop in and redirect the ball back into their zone.

The second half continued along the same lines. Zach Church marshaled three successive ventures deep into Berkshires' zone. The ball would not cross mid-field there after. At the 47 minute mark, Tim Kent put on a ball control clinic, initiating a Patrie to Mayo to Barry break resulting in Wilmington's second goal of the game. The same combination clicked again moments later, with Richie Barry collecting a hat-trick for his efforts. The final score of 4-0 understated Wilmington's dominance throughout. With the first day completed, Wilmington's long running unbeaten streak remained intact.

The second day presented the Wildcats their greatest challenge to date. They were pitted against an undefeated team from Nashoba who had yet to allow a goal in the tourney. From the outset it was clear this would be a fight to the finish. A penalty against Wilmington early on set up a direct kick from 20 yards out. But for the acrobatic save of Brendan Stachurski, Wilmington would have been in an early deficit.

Wilmington came right back with Justin Patrie maneuvering his way to the middle for a rocket that was stopped by an incredible save. Nashoba countered with another excursion well into Wilmington's zone. This time Matt Brooks answered the call, breaking up their advance and starting a strong Wilmington counter-attack. This culminated in a Dana Steenbruggen fast break and shot that just missed finding the net. Another Nashoba breakaway just prior to half time required goalkeeper Sheehan to again venture well out of the box.

The second half was a repeat of the first, with neither team giving an inch. Then, with less than a minute left a free kick by Nashoba from mid-field deep into Wilmington's zone appeared to be an obvious offside play. No whistle sounded, however, and play continued with several Nashoba players bearing down on Wilmington's unprotected goalie. The resulting shot slithered into Wilmington's net, ending both the game and the Wildcat's magical season. The team that had experienced so many thrills of victory, finally faced the agony of defeat.

The stat sheet will say that the team won 2 and lost 1, allowing a paltry 2 goals during the entire weekend. An impressive record by any measure. But such statistic could hardly convey the magnitude of this young team's accomplishments. The true measure of character is, as they say, in how one handles defeat. On that basis, this team truly displayed its championship mettle.

Coaches Bill Kent, Bob Patrie and Tony Azevedo had molded this group not only into a team in the truest sense, but into a band of good sportsmen. A team in which every parent and the town in general can take great pride. And just think of the possibilities next season, when this fine group of young men actually will be a U12 team. Better book those hotel reservations in Amherst NOW!

Under 12 girls win cup

Many Youth Soccer Teams are finishing their seasons, but for these sixth grade girls the desire to capture a Division II Commissioner's Cup was the last hurdle. Last fall, the thought of this dream would never happen! The coach placed them in Division II knowing that most of the players were only Division III Players.

Taking the challenge, the U12 B team played tough competition throughout the fall and spring seasons and overall completed an astonishing 18 wins, one loss and three ties. That one loss was for the Division II Middlesex Championship and they fell short in double overtime 3-2 to a tough North Reading team.

The Commissioner's Cup is a Round Robin Tournament with the best four teams participating. At 8 a.m. Saturday the opening game was played against Reading at Altavesta School in Woburn. The game was a midfield back and forth first half with a 0-0 tie.

In the second half, Wilmington midfielders Karla Ellis, Krystal Beaudin, Meghan Godding and Nadia Prinzivalli pushed the ball to the attacking third of the field. On a perfectly executed play by Karla Ellis, the ball got to Nadia who, with some tricky dribbling, found an opening and lofted a kick past the out reaching arms of the Reading keeper for a 1-0 win.

The team returned for their next game at 11 a.m., only to find a determined Westford A team to battle. The stellar defense of Lauren Murphy, Ashley Ricardo, Adrienne Masiello, and Courtney Browne stopped many attempts by Westford, and let's not forget the steady and effective play of keeper Ashley Poirier.

As was in the first game no score at halftime, the game was in its last few minutes, but Wilmington was awarded a corner kick. Karla Ellis placed a high lofted ball past the far post and as quickly as the ball hit the ground, Wilmington rooker launched a missile to the far left corner just under the crossbar for the second 1-0 win. This winning kick was achieved due to the persistent forward lineup of Caitlin Pazdziorko, Katelyn Lynch and Jessica Brouillard.

With two tough games played, Wilmington faced an undefeated Somerville A team on Sunday evening. The girls got ready for this final game with more confidence than when they prepared for the Division Championship. They learned how to handle the pressure, "knowing it's only a game."

Wilmington took control of this game at the start and constantly forced Somerville into corner kicks from the persistent forwards Lauren Brashly and Jackie LaLiberte. Karla Ellis placed many kicks at the six yard line, but Somerville, who was crossing the penalty box, kept kicking the ball out. Courtney Browne's attack placed the ball to center midfielder/striker Nadia Prinzivalli who rifled a high missile to the Somerville keeper who caught the ball past the goal line. The referee ruled a goal for a 1-0 lead.

The offensive play continued as midfielder Adrienne Fisher played aggressively to halt any Somerville attack. The forwards became more persistent pressuring the Somerville defense. Wilmington was awarded another corner kick and Karla Ellis placed the ball past the far post to a waiting Debbie Rooker who copied the Westford play for a 2-0 margin.

Somerville fought back but keeper Ashley Poirier made diving saves to keep the opponent scoreless. Ashley's half field kicks pushed the ball and again Lynch, Pazdziorko, Brassil and Brouillard pressured Somerville's defense that resulted in a hand ball call by the referee in the penalty box. Karla Ellis fired a missile to the left corner for goal number three.

Wilmington's head coach Bob Paquin, Assistants Larry Poirier and Sue Paquin want to congratulate the players for an excellent season.

Blue Devils take top spot in division

Out of 10 teams in the Girls Under 12 Division, the Blue Devils, coached by Craig Frizol, Tom Guzinski and Ed Celli, finished first in the Massachusetts Tournament of Champions held recently at UMass, Amherst.

This gave the girls the greatest opportunity for soccer to be able to go to the MTOC States.

Pioneer League Pittsfield 1, Wilmington 0

The game started as a very defensive one. Shots were at a minimal. Allison Audette at sweeper was not letting anything get by. Striker Erica Frizol and Amber Warnick were very persistent in their play.

Mallory DeRosa was pounding the ball with her strong leg power. Katie Celli at defensive midfield was letting nothing go by. One play by the opponent, and a goal was scored. Taylor Duffy at stopper was covering both sides of the field and she was so fast that if you blinked you missed her play.

Berkshire League Wilmington 0, Palmer 0

The girls were ready for this game. The field was scorching hot, the weather, as well as the team. Both teams played great fundamental soccer.

Jackie Mello was on fire in the game. Alyssa Bibeau at full back did not let a player go by her. Alicia Murray at sweeper was so tenacious the team tried to stay away from her. Kat Strazzere playing center midfield was attacking the ball with such fury the keeper on the opponents' side did not want to see those shots coming at her from Kat. Amanda Miles at half back dazzled the opponents with her foot work.

SSSL League Wilmington 2, Weymouth 2

The opportunity to go to the semi-finals, depended on this game.

The game started out very defensive. Erin Magee played wing and had a great shot at keeper; tremendous save. First half ended. Weymouth scored first in the second half. We decided to take this game to a high level. Jetlean Guzinski fired up the game, driving through the opponents. Danielle O'Shea threw in a toss to Kim Gentile who faked out a player then passed the ball to Jackie Stokes who, one touched it back and drove it in for the score. Now the score was tied.

On the next play, Katie Celli sent the ball to the outside to Kim Gentile who sent it over to Jackie Stokes who fired the shot for a goal. At this time the score was tied 2-2 on a booming shot in the air into the far corner of the goal. The game was over at that time the ref called the play offside. Game ended in a 2-2 tie.

Julia Stein, our keeper for all three games was absolutely phenomenal in the goal. The coaching staff would like to say thank you so much for the outstanding season.

It has been our pleasure to be involved with a group of girls with so much talent. Good luck in your future, but always remember the MTOC States, year 2000.

Astros and Rangers hook up in terrific game

Farm League Astros vs Rangers

The Astros and Rangers played an exciting and competitive game. Matt Hachey and Brendon Fullerton made some big plays for the Rangers on defense, while Chris Colosimo and Tyler Whalen helped lead the hitting attack.

For the Astros, Steve Silva made some Gold Glove plays on defense, and Andrew McGrath, Jeff Tyner and Cody Wilkins swung big bats on the offensive side for their team.

The teams played it close all the way as the game went down to the wire before it was decided.

Expos 13, Phillies 7

The Phillies, sponsored by Caddell and Byers Insurance, got good fielding from Brendan Murphy, Anthony Morlani and Bobby Foss. The big hitters were Evan Butters, Lenny Colomoto and Frank Sorentino.

The Expos, sponsored by Wilmington Builders Supply, got good hitting from Frankie Augello, Tony Nelson, and Vincent Sgrosso. Good fielding was handed in by Michael Manganelli, Pat Enwright and Ryan Derian.

Phillies 14, Brewers 7

The Phillies, sponsored by Caddell and Byers Insurance got good fielding from Connor and Brendan Murphy and Evan Butters. The big hitters were Liam Gatley and Sean Keane.

The Brewers sponsored by Watson Marcous Pump, saw Adam Brown and Victor Annunziata with good hits. Matt Sullivan and Tommy Maiop played well on defense.

Giants vs Brewers

The Pacific Packaging Products Giants defeated the Watson-Marcous Pump Brewers in a game full of excitement.

The Giants offensive attack was led by Anthony Vibert, Jason and Scott Bonica who combined for eight hits. The Brewers were up for the challenge with great defensive plays by Victor Annunziata, Brendon Collins and Tommy Burr.

Offensively the Brewers kept themselves in the game with key hits by Mike Chriscosta, Mike Mastrapietro and Tommy Maio. The Giants defense proved to be too strong with outstanding plays by Matt Celeste, Justin Pritta and Paul Visconti as they held on to win.

Astros 9, Royals 9

The teams played to a thrilling 9-9 tie with both teams making great plays in the final innings. Colin Wilson and catcher Andrew Flodin played strong defense for the Royals. Craig Bush, Kevin Flaherty, Nick Riccio and Mike Kelly swung big bats to lead the Royals' offense.

The Astros' Nick Russo, Steve Silva and Joyce Humes all had key hits to lead the offense. In the field, Andrew McGrath, Cory Kulacz and Donny Holbert played strong games to anchor the Astro defense.

Giants 9, Mariners 4

The Pacific packaging products Giants beat the Medford Savings Bank Mariners, 9-4. The Giants took the lead early with the clutch hitting of Joe Rastellini, Scott Bonica and Ryan Townsend. Great defensive plays by Mariners, Michael Murphy, Colin Foley and Ryan Savini, kept the game close.

The Mariners showed great effort with rallying hits by Ryan Searles, Steve Doucette, and Paul Duffy. The Giants held the Mariners off and took the win with strong defensive plays by Anthony Vibert, Derek Steen and Kyle Creedon.

Giants vs Astros

The Pacific Packaging Products Giants beat the Shea Concrete Astros in a great game filled with exciting defensive plays and plenty of hits from both teams.

Brady Detwiler, Michael Mazzei, and Jonathan Rizzo led the offense for the Giants with four hits each. The Astros offense responded with key hits by Patrick Boudreau, Jeff Tyner and Dan Johnson.

The Astros defense battled with great plays by Nick Rosso, Donny Holbert and Andrew McCarthy.

The Giants defense preserved the win with strong plays by Joe Rastellini, Matt Celeste and Ryan Townsend.

Phillies 12, Rangers 5

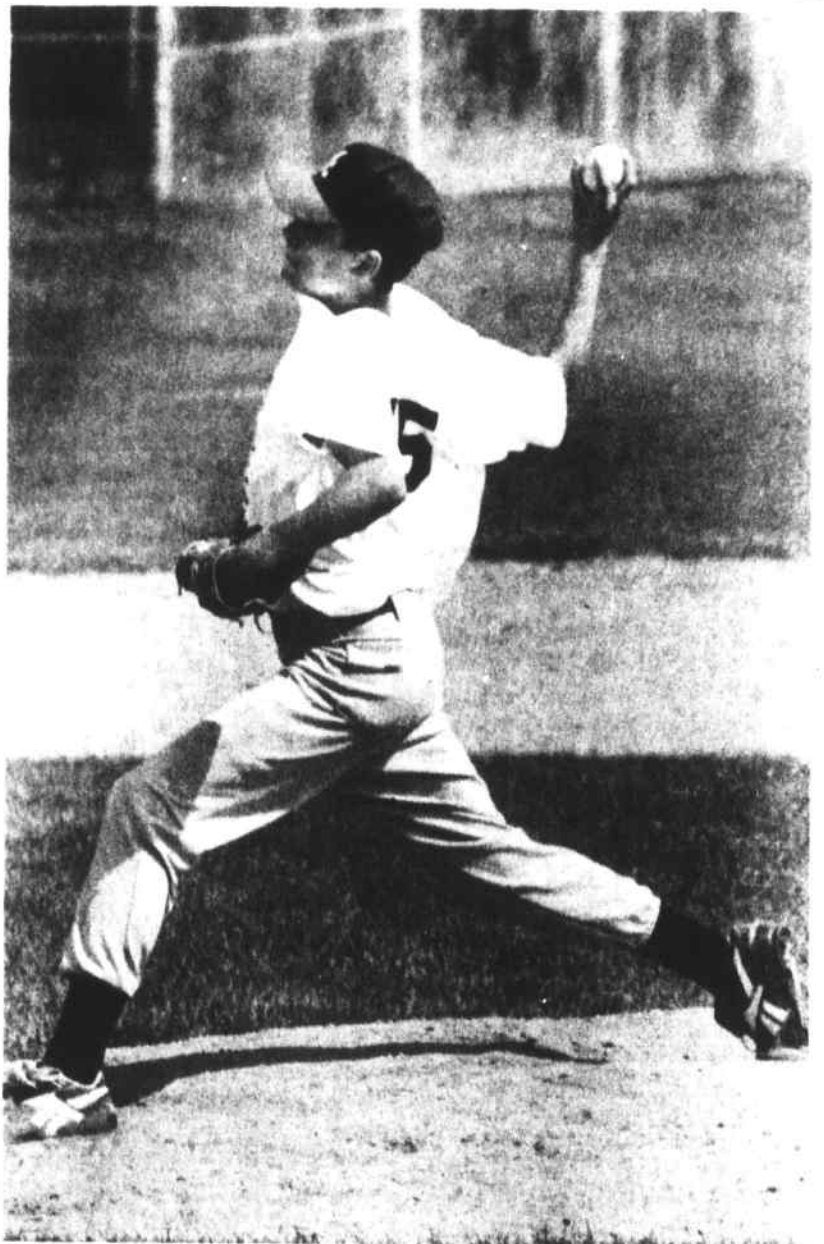

The Phillies, sponsored by Cadell and Byers Insurance, saw great fielding by Anthony Morlani, and Frank Sorentino. Lenny Colomoto, Bobby and Jan Ross were the big hitters.

The Rangers, sponsored by Zeneck Resins, had good fielding by Matt Hachey, Brendon Fullerton and Brian Couta. The offense was provided by Jared Hanes, Tyler Whalen and Charlie Valente.

Phillies vs Giants

The Phillies, sponsored by Cadell and Byers Insurance, saw good hits by Liam Gatley, Dana Ferranti and Dylan Reed. The defense was anchored by Joshua Doyle, Sean Keane and Conor Murphy.

The Giants, sponsored by Pacific Packaging Products had good hits by Derek Steen, Jason Perreira and Justin Chemezert. Defense was by Matt Capozzi, Paul Visconti and Brady Detwiler.

In-town all-star games successful

On Sunday afternoon, Wilmington Little League held a double-header of in-town all-star games held at Wilmington High School. The Board of Directors this year voted not to have all-star teams for the 13 and 14-year-old team, and the 15 and 16-year-old team, because of various reasons. Thus, on Sunday, the 13-year-old all-stars played the 14-year olds at 12:30, and then the 15-year olds played the 16-year olds.

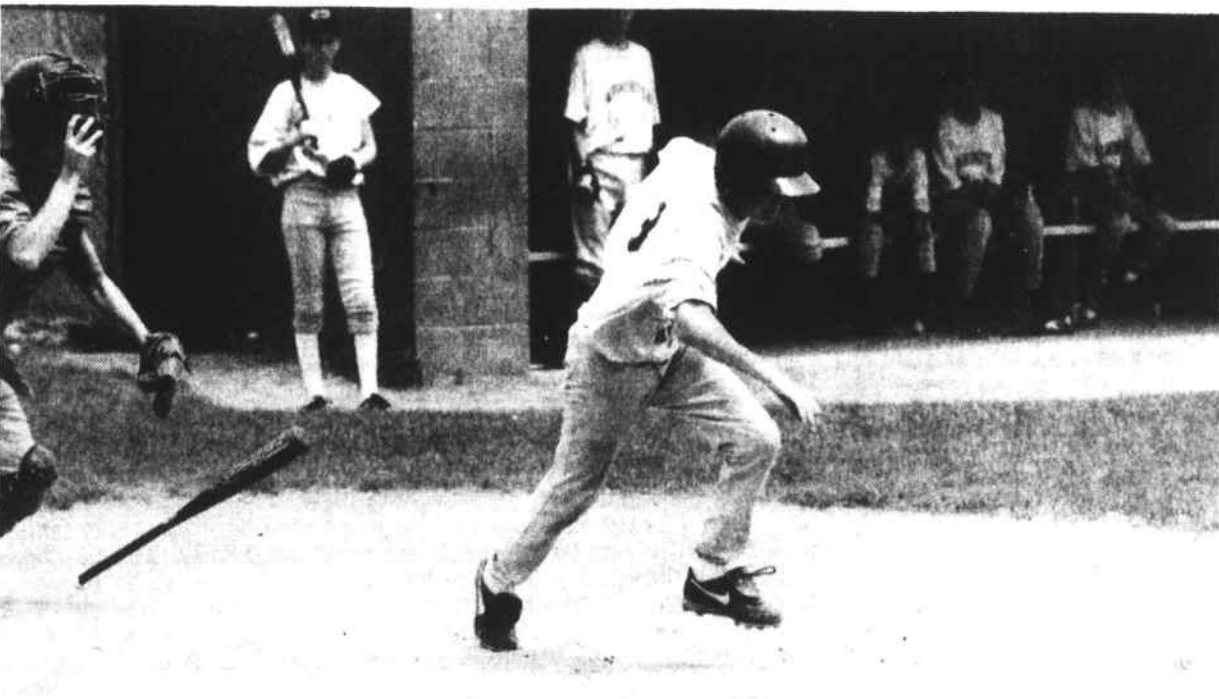

15's vs 16's

It was the younger kids who prevailed in this game, 12-4, as four pitchers combined to strike out 15 batters to lead the way for the 15-year-old team. Billy Sinopoli pitched the first four innings, followed by Dave Velardo, Mike Robar, Greg Buck and Ryan Tildsley, who pitched the final two innings. Dan O'Connell, Sinopoli and Robar led the way with two hits each for the 15-year-olds, while Joe Downs, John Martin, Gerald Holland and Dennis DiCenso also played well.

As for the 16 year olds, Pat Graham stroked a double, as did Ryan Boudreau, while, Tim Hogg belted two hits. Kyle Burns, Dan Callinan and Chris Danciewicz also played well.

The rest of the 16-year-old roster include: Dave Aronofsky, John Conley, Ryan Gaudet, Brian McMahan and Jay Riley.

* The 14 year-olds defeated the 13-year-olds, 7-6 in a fantastic battle.

Upcoming baseball games

Over the next few weeks, a lot of baseball will be played in the town of Wilmington. The All-Star team brackets were recently released and this year Wilmington has just two teams: the major baseball all-star team, and the major softball all-star team. Wilmington Little League unanimously elected not to have the all-star teams for the older kids 13 and up for several reasons.

The major baseball team, coached by Tom Southmayd, will debut its summer season at home at Rotary Park on Wednesday, July 5 beginning at 5:45 against Woburn American. If they win that game they will play the following night, and should they win that game they will play again on Sunday, July 9. If the major all-stars lose their first game, they will try to climb out of the loser's bracket with a game on Tuesday, July 11 at 5:45.

The major softball all-star team, coached by Eddie Collins, will host Stoneham on Thursday, July 13th at Rotary Park beginning at 5:45. If they win that game they will play Sunday, July 16 at 4:30. If they lose the first game they will play Friday, July 14.

The Northeast baseball team will host Wakefield on Thursday, June 29th at WHS with the first pitch slated for 5:45. The Senior Pony League team will next host the Haverhill River Rats on Saturday, July 8 at 10:00 am at WHS. The 13-year old pony league team will host Andover on Friday, July 7 at 5:45, also at WHS.

Finally, on July 9, Wilmington will hold its triple header day once again at Rotary Park. At 12:30 will be the minor league all-star game, followed by the farm all-star game at 3, and the 15 and 16-year-old home run derby contest at 5:30.

UML baseball camps

UMass Lowell will offer three weeks of baseball camps this summer, full of top-level instruction from some of the Merrimack Valley's premier coaches and instructors.

All three camps are directed by UMass Lowell head Coach Jim Stone, who recently concluded his 34th year and has won 695 games. Stone will be joined by former UML standout and Hall of Fame member Steve Lane; former River Hawk great Ken Connerty, also a member of UML's Athletic Hall of Fame and in his 15th year as assistant coach; and current Lowell High School Assistant Coach Dick O'Loughlin.

All three camps will be held at Greater Lowell Technical High School. Tewksbury players can also register the morning of the camp.

Week one-for players ages seven to 12 is slated for June 26-30 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cost of the camp is $110.

Week Two, offered to players ages 11-18 will run July 3-7 except the Fourth and will be run in two sessions. Session I will concentrate on teaching, pitching, infield and outfield play from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Session II will center around hitting and will be conducted from 12:30 to 3 p.m. The cost is $85 per session or $100 for both sessions.

Week three offered to players aged seven-12 will be offered the week of July 10-14 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cost of week three is $110.

Each camper will receive a camp t-shirt and baseball cap. UMass Lowell Youngstar members will receive a 10 percent discount.

For more information call Jim Stone at 978-934-2344.

Summer sign-ups

Register for Recreation Department programs Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Rec office, room 3, town hall.

We have coupons for BJ's Warehouse, Canopic Lake Park, Six Flags, Hershey Park, Sesame Place, Sea World, Busch Gardens plus Disney World and other Florida attractions.

Tiny Tots & Kids Club
Linda Stillings, Shawsheen School

Ages four through first grade, $100, three week sessions, through Tuesday, July 11, and Thursday July 13 Tuesday, August 2.

This is a social/recreation program for four, five, six and seven-year-olds (those who were in first grade this past year). The classes run simultaneously from 9 a.m. to noon. There are field trips, class photos, personal t-shirts, arts and crafts, singing, games, special events and a big bunch of fun. Register at the Town Hall any weekday. A birth certificate must be submitted for each participant. No class on July 3 and 4. We have openings in Session I for seven-year-olds and Session II for four, five and seven.

Playgrounds
Ellen Grider & Kerri Cassella
Grades one through six (completed first grade, but not seventh grade): $60, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wed., July 5-Tue., Aug. 15, Town Hall and Woburn Street School.

We added the Woburn Street School as a second playground location three summers ago. This traditional program is for youths who have completed any grade between one and six. Parents may register their child anytime 8:30 to 4:30 weekdays. This varied program consists of arts and crafts, quiet games, active games, special events, sports, tournaments, field trips and free play. This is a good program for volunteer helpers who have completed grade seven, eight or nine. Many leaders and several volunteers provide supervision for the children. The second and third child in a family, $50 each.

Special needs program
Bernie McNally

Special kids, $60, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Wednesday, July 5-Tuesday, August 15 (Woburn Street School). This program is for Wilmington youths with special needs. We are again allowing up to 15 mainstream youngsters to join the program too. This concept is known as "inclusion." The program provides a wholesome mixture of indoor and outdoor activities, field trips, swimming games, crafts, singing and lots of fun! Register in the Recreation Office any time. Cost is $50 each for a family's second and third child. The program will take place at the Woburn Street School alongside our playground program.

Town Beach
Now through Sunday, August 20 at Silver Lake.

The public beach at Silver Lake provides our finest natural recreation resource. Qualified lifeguards supervise the facility from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Saturday and from noon to 7 p.m. Sundays. Come enjoy the sun and your own sandy beach. Wilmington residents may use the beach at no charge. We also invite residents from other Massachusetts towns to share our beach at the seasonal rate of $30 per adult and $10 per child or a family rate of $70. Out-of-towners may purchase identifying season tags in the Rec Office any weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Proof of residency may be required. Day passes for out-of-towners at $3 apiece may be purchased at the beach.

Basketball clinics

Redmen hockey lose to Triton

The Tewksbury Mite Redmen hockey team lost their last regular spring season game to Triton's Mite A squad by an 8-1 score.

Forward Cameron Doherty (assisted by defenseman Nicholas Mann) scored Tewksbury's loan goal on a nifty backhand shot.

Forwards Ryan Doherty, Jonathan Choroszy, Andrew DeMaio, Brad Tosto, Kyle O'Brien, Sean Kieran, Matthew Pelrine and James Sullivan competed well, and defensemen Brendan Kieran, Robert Pruyne, David Conley and Evan Cutelis fought hard to protect their goaltender James Berkeley.

The Redmen finished the season with a respectable 6-4-2 record, and a good chance to make the playoffs.

First summer track meet a lot of fun

The first summer track meet of the season took place at the Tewksbury Memorial High School track last Thursday evening. There will be four remaining meets in the series on June 29th, July 13th, July 20th and July 27th. Sponsored by the Tewksbury Recreation Department and conducted by the Tewksbury High track coaching staff and high school athletes, the meets start at 6 p.m. There is no preregistration and no entry fee.

Lee sisters charm with song and dance

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN
WILMINGTON - Victoria and Cassandra Lee have been busy this year, charming pageant judges with their dance steps and show biz finesse and making their parents, Connie and Paul, smile from ear to ear.

In April, Victoria won a Gold Award and was named Star of the Show at the American Dance Awards, which was held in Lowell. It is not at all difficult to pinpoint the exact moment during the show at which she captured those double distinctions and bested contestants from Pennsylvania, New York and here in New England. It happened when she bowled over the judges with a kiss.

When young Victoria stepped onto the stage at the Lowell High School, she must have appeared to the judges and the audience to be but a tiny figure standing in the center of a wide and long space, a diminutive presence on a vast, wooden terrain.

Then the music began, and the stage got smaller. Once Lou Bega's popular Top-40 hit "Mambo Number 5" swung into gear on the sound system, Victoria confidently and playfully broke into dance: bopping her hips from left to right, spinning in circles, taking three steps to the left and three to the right, you name it. The audience, which included Victoria's parents, as well as the parents of the youngsters against whom Victoria was competing, cheered with surprised laughter and applause.

But it was that kiss that sealed Victoria's Gold Award victory and crowned her Star of the Show.

CASSANDRA LEE

"Mambo Number Five" was only to play for two minutes of its approximately five-minute running time. When the song abruptly stopped, Victoria did too. And, without missing a beat, she patted the tips of her fingers to her lips and blew the audiences and the judges a big, thank-you kiss.

The judges were so taken aback by such a bit of show biz savvy that they burst into startled, impressed gales of laughter. One judge laughed so hard that she lost her balance in her chair.

By the way, did we mention that this natural performer is only three years old? Well, okay, as Victoria herself will tell you, she's a bit older than that. She's three and a half.

Her sister, Cassandra, is twice her age and even further along the way when it comes to impressing pageant judges.

On Sunday, June 4, six-year-old Cassandra attended a regional All-American Girl/Boy Pageant at the Radisson Hotel in Milford, where she was chosen to represent New England as its Model of the Year in a nationwide pageant to be held in New York in August.

It was a triumphant moment for Cassandra, and it wasn't her first. At the same American Dance Awards where Victoria danced to "Mambo Number 5," Cassandra and her dancing partners won two High Silver Awards in the categories of jazz and ballet. (Both Cassandra and Victoria take dance lessons under Jessica Durante at Dance Expressions in Tewksbury.)

Neither Victoria or Cassandra are strangers to modeling. In fact, both sisters model for a company named Dynasty that is stationed on Newbury Street in Boston. In particular, Cassandra has modeled for Carter's, a company that sells sleep-and-playwear for children, and Anne & Hope. She also appears on the cover of PrintMaster's latest software package.

We know that Victoria and Cassandra can dance. Did you know that they can sing too?

On Friday, June 16, both Cassandra and Victoria sang solo from the gazebo at Tewksbury Town Common for an audience of parents and friends from Music Works, a school in Tewksbury where the two sisters take singing lessons. Victoria crooned to the oldie "L-O-V-E," and Cassandra sang another oldie, but goodie, called "Let Me Entertain You."

Actually, Victoria is the youngest student to ever join MusicWorks, which usually begins admitting children at the age of five. Furthermore, she was also the youngest competitor in her solos-by-six-and-under category at the American Dance Awards.

Dancing and singing. If space permitted, there would even be time for tales about the skating and swimming lessons that Cassandra and Victoria take and the Tae-Kwon-Do classes that they attend. These are two busy girls.

Their mom, Connie, is thrilled to see her girls have such a fun time, and she's even a little bit flabbergasted by the artistic talents that the two of them share. You see, Cassandra and Victoria were adopted from China when they were both within the first year of their lives. They are related completely in terms of the last name given them by their folks.

"Biologically, they are not sisters," says Connie Lee, who married Paul, a first-generation Chinese-American, years after they first met in grade school. "We adopted them at two different times and from two different families, so it's quite amazing to see both of them have such a knack for dancing and singing."

It helps that young Victoria is a quick study who admires her older sister.

"Vicky loves to watch her sister dance," says Connie. "She likes to watch her at her dance class, and when she practices here at home. It doesn't take long at all for Vicky to memorize all that Cassandra does and do it herself."

Victoria and Cassandra love what they're doing, and Connie and Paul go to great lengths to ensure that their enjoyment remains their top and only priority. Unfortunately, when people think of pageants, they tend to think of JonBonet Ramsey, the six-year-old "beauty queen" who was murdered in Colorado almost three years ago. Such a topic was intentionally passed over during the course of an interview between Connie Lee and The Town Crier, in order to keep the story light and the focus on the two girls. Days later, however, Connie Lee called The Town Crier and shared her thoughts on the matter.

"We're very conscientious about that," assures Connie. "You do have to go into protective-mode when you enter your child in a pageant. Neither Cassandra or Victoria are ever let out of our sight. We called the Pageant Headquarters in North Salem, New York, and a representative assured us that many adjustments have been made in the wake of the JonBonet Ramsey incident."

For starters, Connie says, pageant participants are not allowed to wear swimsuits if they are age sixteen or younger. Secondly, make-up is discouraged across the board. A third example of pageant reform is a rule stating that all pageant-wear must be age-appropriate, so as to prevent both intentional and unintentional "come hither" looks.

"The representative at the headquarters in New York was very helpful and nice," says Connie. "Both Paul and I found it to be very refreshing to be so reassured."

Such reassurances have become even more necessary and comforting to the Lees because, after all, the next stop for Cassandra will be the biggest one yet: New York.

From August third through the seventh, Cassandra will be competing in six categories at the National All-American Girl/Boy Pageant at the Crown Plaza Hotel in White Plains, New York. The six categories call for her to model a formal gown, a semi-formal gown, and a gown of her choice; to be interviewed by judges, to put in her own 30-second commercial, and to perform a talent number. For that final category, Cassandra will dance to "Mambo Number 5," a song that has no doubt proven lucky for the Lee family.

VICTORIA LEE

"Cassie and Vicky are amazing children," beams Connie. "They really are. Paul and I truly feel blessed to have them for our kids."

When Cassandra enters the Shawsheen Elementary School in the fall, she will not be stuck for topics when instructed to write an essay about what she did during her summer vacation.

She may even have the crown to prove it.

Manufacturer denied storage space

By CHARLOTTE COOPER
TEWKSBURY - Praxair, Inc., once known as Union Carbide, was denied an application to store 300,000 cubic feet of compressed gasses above ground in cubic foot cylinders at the old Liquid Carbolic facility on 1685 Shawsheen St.

"What we're looking for is to respectfully request your approval to the change of our license and we're looking forward to building a lasting relationship with both you and the community," said Richard Johnson, Manager Emergency Response, for Praxair. He and his colleagues Bob Montony, manager of the warehouse, Richard Anderson, business development for the semiconductor gas business, and David Tolejko safety and codes engineer came before the Board of Selectmen to present their case.

"Some of the topics we'd like to talk about are the products that are to be distributed, both the cylinder sizes and the quantities," said Mr. Johnson. "And some of the concerns that have been expressed to us by the community and Praxair's contribution to the community."

Approximately 100 cylinders would have been stored at the facility with the possibility of increasing that number to 300. The Department of Transportation labels for Praxair's stored cylinders would have been a mixture of flammable, nonflammable, poisonous and "dangerous when wet," and the cylinders would contain gasses such as arsene, germain, and phosphene and tetrachlorosilene.

The distribution of characteristics of gasses is about 30% to 70%: 30% will be flammable or poisonous and the remainder is nonflammable. The cylinders containing some of the gasses are "SDS" or "safe delivery system" containers.

The cylinder design and the quantity in each of them that leakage is minimized if a release occurs. They contain a chemical compound that adheres to the gasses and a special process tool is the only way the gasses can be removed from the container. Two handheld portable leakdetecting units would be used to detect hydrides as well as corrosives down to the parts per billion range and they check for leaks when they receive the cylinders as well as before they deliver them to customers.

Mr. Johnson said that the cylinders are very small and only contain 130 grams of the product. If a spill does occur, the "worst case scenario" indicates the contents of any one of the cylinders would only spread 200 feet from the source and the total exposure time before any health risk is incurred is 30 minutes. That exposure information is according to the Environmental Protection Agency and the Occupational Safety and Health Association.

Mr. Johnson said that their main concern is for the safety of the community. The company has locations in California, Arizona and Texas and claims that their track record there is "impeccable." The gasses all have distinct odors and are clearly detectable when released.

"We're arranging through Chief Ryan and Deputy Chief Graham to train the county HAZMAT teams in August," said Mr. Johnson. They would have brought in people specially trained in emergency response and specially equipped to handle given emergency situations to train others.

Another major issue with the new location is traffic flow. "On traffic flow, we will have one common carrier delivery every two weeks," Mr. Johnson said. "We will have a delivery truck that will make a delivery in the area once each day." He also said that they would be delivering to their customers daily.

Mr. Johnson said that they planned to renovate the building and the dock areas. "We would remove all the asbestos from the building and completely refurbish the current site where there are the cylinders," said Mr. Johnson. "Praxair is actually an industrial gas company and we're trying to come in and revitalize the facility," said Mr. Anderson.

The bulk of the cylinders will be filled with inert gas. A chainlink fence will surround the property, front gate will be made operational and a chainlink fence will enclose the loading dock itself with an alarm system connected to it. The alarm system will be connected to an alarm company.

"Based upon my education and experience, and the information that the [company] has provided to me, I feel that the operation can be done safely in the neighborhood," said Fire Chief Ryan. He said that his concerns were also for the safety of the community, but felt confident that Praxair would work responsibly.

Deputy Fire Chief Graham concurred and indicated that he checked their references and all proved to be in good standing.

Several residents raised safety concerns about a potential emergency situation. They cited the time it would take for an emergency vehicle to respond should an emergency situation occur late at night or when trains block the access routes. Evacuation routes and afterhours responses to an emergency were discussed.

The Board agreed that Praxair has established the fact of there good track record and that they are a responsible company, but cited several outstanding safety issues that must be addressed before a permit is granted.

"As I listened to the testimony here tonight, I tried to weigh the [good and bad]," said Charles Coppola, Selectmen. He said that pedestrian traffic, traffic congestion, proximity to wetlands, concentrations of combustibles and flammables within the area, train traffic, and the fact that Praxair has not made a significant investment in the property in the three years they've been there, were legitimate concerns that were not adequately addressed and reasons enough to deny the permit.

Praxair commended the fire department for their time and effort and indicated that the gas part of the company would research other facilities for their business.

Giving something back to golf

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

An amazing feature about most successful people is the fact their roots are well grounded in their families and the communities from which they came.

This has been true with such people as Barry Mawn, now the assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigations, who now lives in New York while still calling Woburn his home. Former Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe and retired Dean of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, John Rogers Galvin, still keeps a Wakefield connection although he is now living in the Atlanta, Georgia area.

Another person who has gained success but has not forgotten his family, friends, hometown or his early days as a caddy, is Concord resident Richard F. Connolly, Jr., a senior vice president with Paine Webber Incorporated and honored this year by the Francis J. Ouimet Scholarship Fund, which has established an award for people who have given outstanding service to the Fund.

Connolly has served the Fund in various capacities and has been the chairperson for the Francis Ouimet Memorial

The Francis Ouimet Society

Tournament for 22 years. The Richard F. Connolly, Jr. Distinguished Service Award is described as a mahogany plaque with a gold plate inscribed with Connolly's name.

"It is not unique in appearance," Connolly said, "but it is attractive."

When it comes to unique looking awards, Connolly points to the Richard F. Connolly, Sr. Award that he established in 1997. That trophy named for his father, a former Alderman in Woburn and an employee of the B.F. Goodrich Company until his retirement, goes to the winner of the Francis Ouimet Scholarship Fund Invitational Tournament.

The trophy is a replica of the British Open Trophy and contains a replica of Ouimet's putter, champion golfer Harry Vardon's brassie, and champion golfer Ted Ray's putter. The three golf clubs are adorned with silver balls which are inscribed with the names of the winners.

The significance of the Vardon and Ray clubs is the fact that Ouimet beat out the pair to win the 1913 United States Open Tournament, while he was still a caddy himself.

Although Connolly travels in the rarified atmosphere of the company of some of golf's greatest stars, such as Arnold Palmer and Curtis Strange, the former he considers a good friend and client, he still remembers his roots and is very fond of them.

Connolly said that when he speaks before groups of young people, "I emphasize growing up in Woburn. At least when I grew up there it was a very positive experience for me."

"I still have many friends in Woburn and I still play golf in Woburn."

According to Connolly, while he was growing up, Palmer was an idol of his. Because of his connection with golf, Connolly has been able to cultivate his friendship with one of the world's most popular golfers.

"One thing that makes Arnold Palmer the great hero that he is," Connolly said, "is he never forgets his roots."

That is just one of the many lessons that Connolly has taken from the game of golf.

Michael Bishop, Quarterback, New England Patriots
& Mark Bavaro, Super Bowl Champion of New York Giants
July 12th at 6 - 8 p.m.

Michael Bishop
1999 Heisman Trophy Runnerup
Kansas State Player of the Decade
1999 Dave O'Brien Award winner
Michael was one of the best big play quarterbacks in college. Michael joined the Patriots as a quick, mobile scrambler with a strong arm. His most intriguing quality his intangible ability to win football games. In 1998, he rushed for 748 yards and 14 touchdowns while leading the big XII Conference in passing with 2344 yards and 23 TD's.

Mark Bavaro
Mark Bavaro, formerly of the New York Giants, one of the top-rated tight ends in history. In his Superbowl year Mark had 66 catches for 1,001 yards to help his New York Giants go on to win the Superbowl. Nicknamed Rambo for his bruising style of play and facial resemblance to actor Sylvester Stallone.

POEM

'The Glorious 4th of July'

By ANTHONY MANCONI

Aye! Raise her to the highest mast
Secure and make her halcyons fast.
Then wind and rain or gentle breeze
The Summer's heat or winter's freeze
Cannot deter Old Glory's wave
O'er the land of the free and the brave.

Our flag has flown o'er

Arctic's waste,
Through desert storms and cyclone's haste.
Has proudly waved on ships at sea,
And on the moon made history.
Has felt the sting of shot and shell,
On Iwo Jima's living hell.

So on this glorious 4th today,
I bow my head and start to pray:
"Oh Lord please grant this land will be,
Forever blessed with liberty.
And let Old Glory raised on high.
As freedom's emblem proudly fly.

About The Towns by Phyllis Nissen

More to salute in Wakefield

"The Americal Civic Center has three new flags thanks to the Corporal Harry E. Nelson American Legion Post 62," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Post Commander Tom Collins presented two American flags and a Prisoner of War Flag to the Civic Center Board of Directors to be placed on the flag pole recently erected in front of the building."

"The Civic Center was the Armory in Wakefield where men from the National Guard met and were sworn in to the United States Army before being shipped to South Pacific as members of the Americal Division during World War II. They served in the Battle of Guadalcanal and in New Caledonia as well as other areas of the Pacific Theater."

"In a press release from the Post it stated, 'The display and protection of the Flag is a very high priority of the American Legion.'"

"As a part of their mission, the Post announced that members distributed Flag Day Coloring Books to the first grade students of Wakefield and conducted the annual Pause for the Pledge on June 14 on the Upper Common."

"The Post has obtained new classroom flags for the General John R. Galvin Middle School and for the Dolbeare School in recent years...."

"Shortly after Article 5 was approved, Moderator Stewart took a moment to publicly recognize and applaud another Stewart who has figured prominently in Wilmington life - Chief Bobby Stewart, who would soon be retiring from the Police Force after giving more than 20 years of service."

"Said James Stewart, 'Chief Stewart, we wish you well in your upcoming retirement.'"

"Replied Chief Stewart, who was clearly moved as he stood before a microphone, 'It has been an honor for me to protect and serve this community.'"

"At one point Stewart jokingly 'made up' an article that would appropriate money for a 'trip to Maui for the Town Moderator.'"

"...whoops, just making sure you're all paying attention," kidded Stewart to audience laughter."

"The appreciation shown to Chief Stewart and the Moderator's light quip would prove refreshing moments in what would turn out to be a nine-hour-plus Town Meeting. In fact, the quick process of voting on the first 20 articles, which took less than an hour, proved equally refreshing as well."

"Here are the results of some of those budget articles:

"Article 1. The results of the April 15 Town Election were read."

"Article 2. The intention of this article was to allow town committees to read their reports. Greg Erickson, the director of the Board of Health, read his report at the Town meeting."

"Article 3. This article, which would have raised and appropriated sums for unpaid bills from previous years if approved, was passed over...."

Light 'Reading' material

"The Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) has received an 'A' rating from Standard & Poor's Rating Services, an indicator of the creditworthiness of specific bonds or debt obligations," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"According to RMLD General Manager Len Rucker, the 'A' rating signifies a strong capacity to pay interest and repay principal."

"Standard & Poor's issuer credit rating for the RMLD reflects the high rate of growth and strong income levels of the four towns within its service area; the department's readiness for open retail access, evidenced by its awareness of competitiveness issues and a concerted effort to lower rates to a more conservative level; and its strong balance sheet with high equity and cash balances. In a statement issued by Standard & Poor, the issuer credit rating is the rating that would be assigned to the RMLD's debt if it were outstanding. The rating agency views the outlook of this rating over the intermediate to longer term, as stable."

"Standard & Poor also focused on the RMLD's competitive rates, including the average

Golf

From S-1

Recalling his youth, Connolly said, "Woburn Golf Club was a blue-collar club but I got a good chance because of it."

He also noted that his father and mother, Phil and Dorothy, made sure he and his brothers Robert got their golf skills.

Connolly got his start in golf mostly because of his father, who played regularly, especially his uncle Ernie Doherty, who was a pro at the Woburn Golf Club and at one point had managed the municipal-owned course.

Connolly recalled that on Monday, when the club was closed so the coaches could play or early in the morning before the golfers came out.

As part of his caddying experience, Connolly said he learned what his father meant when he would say, "God gave you two ears and one mouth."

As a caddy, a part of his job was to listen and speak only when spoken to. As a result of this lesson, Connolly has found a resource that he uses in his business to this day.

"I can go to any course in the country," Connolly said. "Talk to the caddy master and ask to see his three best kids. They can tell me more about the membership base of the club than anybody. "They see the good and the bad."

According to Connolly, the caddies know who the cheaters and liars are and who the good people are.

"Most times you caddy for nice people, successful people," he said. "I got a lot of tremendous free advice on the golf course."

Connolly especially remembers Jim Powers of Arlington, a person he caddied for.

"He asked me what I wanted to be," Connolly recalled.

At the time Connolly's ambition was to be a professional golfer, and follow in the footsteps of his Uncle Ernie.

Powers said to him, "If you want to be successful at anything, you have to spend a lot of lonely hours. Not just the time you are playing but the extra hours."

As Connolly grew up he found the meaning of the statement in watching the successful people in all sports, such as Bobby Orr in hockey, Palmer, golfer Jack Nicklaus and others, who spend hours away from other people just practicing or working out a problem.

Another personal hero from the Woburn days was John Buttner of Winchester. Connolly said he still keeps in touch with the man he used to caddy for who is now 87 years-old.

He also noted that although Woburn is only a nine hole course, there are at least 30 players who came from there with handicaps that were very, very low. Two of those players were top pros in the state.

Phil Friel a friend of Uncle Ernie, went on to become one of the "finest pros in New England," according to Connolly. He also remembers John Thoren, a pro at Woburn for 10 years who played with Ben Hogan and later went on to be head pro at Myopia Hunt Club in Hamilton.

Because of all that he has been given, as a result of his golf days, Connolly is a firm believer in the motto of the Ouimet Fund, "What golf has given to you, give something back to golf."

The Fund is set up to help caddies and other young people, who have spent at least three years working on golf courses in one form or another, a chance to go to college and receive financial aid. It was formed in 1949 by a group of Ouimet's friends and the Massachusetts Golf Association.

The fund has grown since 1949 from $4605. to $725,000 last year.

Since that time, the Fund has given $9.8 million in "need based college tuition assistance" to young people that qualify.

Connolly is an alumnus of the fund, which helped him attend Holy Cross, a trustee and former president.

In the Fund's biography on Ouimet, he is described as "...initiating the enormous boom in American golf with his Cinderella upset victory in the 1913 U.S. Open."

Up until the time the then 20 year old Ouimet defeated top seeded players Vardon and Ray in an 18 hole play-off at Brookline's The Country Club, the game was mostly restricted to the wealthy and the British and Scots dominated the game.

The amazing part of the story, is that Ouimet insisted that his 10 year-old caddy remain with him instead of taking on a more experienced caddy as the trio went into the play-offs.

That caddy was Eddy Lowry who was to go on to become one of California's most successful Ford dealers.

As for Connolly, the training a person receives as a caddy is so important, his three sons, Richard, Ryan and Kevin who are members of the Concord Country Club, are also caddies there.

They are there to carry on a tradition their father and his family have valued and been part of for so many years.

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: What are the four Olympic throwing events? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

WOBURN'S TODD BOUTWELL was a second team pick for the New England Small College Athletic Conference all-star team. Boutwell had a .388 batting average, and led the Tufts University baseball team in RBI with 23, runs scored with 35, and also walks with 26.

TEWKSBURY'S JOE SURPRENANT, also a member of the Tufts baseball team, was also chosen for the second all-star team. The junior catcher threw out 67 percent of runners attempting to steal against him, while hitting .333.

A one-week summer basketball camp for boys entering grades 2-4 in September will be held at NORTH READING HIGH SCHOOL June 26-30 from 5-7 pm. This is the ninth annual summer camp sponsored by North Reading Youth Basketball. The cost is $45 with camp t-shirt included. Junior size balls and 8 1/2 foot baskets will be used. Registration is limited and applications are available at the public library. For more information call Bob Ramsdell at 978-664-1484.

Reading Recreation Summer Baseball is now open to non-Reading residents as well as Reading residents.

This is a five-week program for boys and girls who will enter grades K-4 next fall. This program is for players who would like team play as well as instruction. Players will be assigned to teams within their own age groups, and play two games and have one practice each week on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from July 10-August 11.

The purpose of Reading Recreation Baseball is to provide a format for instruction and games in the atmosphere of fun and encouragement. This program has been very popular, as players enjoy the opportunity to hit, field, throw and run at every session.

Players are placed on team by age, as follows:

Pre-Rookie Division: For boys and girls entering Kindergarten. Basic fundamentals will be stressed and hitting in games will be soft toss from the coaches.

Rookie Division: For boys and girls entering grades 1 or 2. Basic fundamentals will be stressed and hitting in games will be soft toss from the coaches.

Rocket Division: For boys and girls entering grades 3 or 4. Mechanics of fielding, throwing, and baserunning will be emphasized. Hitting in games will be live pitching (coaches pitch).

For more information or to receive an application, call Pete Moscarillo at (781) 942-1362.

THE NORTH READING BASEBALL SCHOOL will be conducting its camp during the following one-week session: June 10-14. The one week session is held from 9 am to 3:30 pm daily. Tuition is $150 and includes daily lunch, soda, t-shirt and cookout.

Specialty camps for pitchers, catchers or hitting will be held July 6 and 7, at a cost of $65. For more information call Frank Carey at 781-595-5628 or write to:

North Reading Baseball School
PO Box 161
North Reading, MA 01864

The Challenger Division of the Wakefield Little League is ready to start another busy season. The league is open to physically and mentally challenged children of all ages who would like to play Little League Baseball, including wheelchair children.

Games are held on Tuesday evenings and Saturday mornings and are open to children of all skill levels and any town. There is a small registration fee which will be waived for any family experiencing financial hardship.

For more information contact coaches STEPHEN CONROY at 944-7820 x. 238 or MAUREEN AND JOHN KOHLER at 245-4647.

Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? One of the events is the javelin.

LYNNFIELD'S JAMIE SACCARDO had a single for the Bentley College baseball team in a recent game against Brandeis University.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The events are the javelin, discus, shotput and hammer.

"MAJOR" SCHOLARSHIP ANNOUNCED

In light of the recent euthanizing of Major, the 33 year old beloved polar bear at the Stone Zoo, the National Coalition for Educational and Cultural Programs is announcing the creation of the "Major" the Polar Bear Scholarship in partnership with the Stoneham Savings Bank.

"We have selected the Stoneham Savings Bank due to their record of community involvement", said Bee Russo, an NCECP Director, "and their past support with efforts to reopen Stone Zoo and assistance with fundraising for initial renovations."

The goal of the "Major the Polar Bear Scholarship" is to keep the memory and the history of Major and the Stone Zoo alive and encourage a deserving MA high school graduate to pursue an education in an animal related field. There will be an annual award of $500 and the first winner will be announced in 2001.

The candidates must also have documented community service as part of the criteria. "We hope to build the scholarship so that multiple awards can be issued each year to commemorate the decades of enjoyment Major provided to families," explained Diane Edwards, founder and President of NCECP.

For information call 781-438-9488.

DEADLINE JUNE 30 FOR FFBC GOLF TOURNEY

The deadline to register for the second Friends Fighting Breast Cancer (FFBC) golf tournament is June 30. The tourney will be held once again at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading on Monday, August 21.

All proceeds benefit on-going breast cancer research at Massachusetts General Hospital raised by FFBC, a nonprofit all-volunteer group founded by breast cancer survivor Janet Connolly O'Neill and her friend, Fran Gilardi both of North Reading.

The entrance fee of $125 includes greens fee and cart plus an awards dinner with entertainment, an assortment of gifts and photos of each foursome.

Light snacks and beverages will also be provided during registration, beginning at 12:30 pm, followed by a scramble start at 1:30 pm. Prizes will be won by the first, second and third place teams as well as those golfers who hit the longest drive, straightest drive and closest to the pin.

Presentation of prizes to tournament winners, plus raffle drawings, will be announced throughout the evening during the awards dinner in the HCC function hall. Non-golfers and guests of golfers may attend the awards dinner for $25.

Last year's event was a sell-out and raised nearly $23,000 for breast cancer research. To register, forward the names, address, handicap, shirt size and phone number of each golfer, along with the appropriate registration fee to: FFBC Golf Tournament Chairperson Theresa Gritti, 100-4 Main St. Apt. 4, Stoneham, MA 02180.

For sponsorship opportunities along the golf course or to donate silent auction items, call Gritti at 781-438-8689.

HOST FAMILIES FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS

The American Intercultural Student Exchange, a non-profit educational foundation, is seeking local host families for high school foreign exchange students for the 2000/01 school year. AISE's students come from 25 countries throughout the world, and the program continues to expand. Every year, AISE places exchange students with over two thousand host families throughout the United States. The students live with American families and attend local high schools during their ten month cultural exchange experiences.

Host families provide these young ambassadors with a place to sleep, meals, and a family atmosphere in which to live. AISE students are eager to learn about our government, history, and customs, while at the same time leaving a lasting impression of their cultures in the minds and hearts of their American host families and peers.

For information on hosting a student in your home call: 1-800-SIBLING, or visit the AISE web site at www.aise.com.

School is out so watch out for children when driving

The month of June brings with it one of the surest signs of summer - the end of the school year. Since last September, sidewalks, school bus stops and roads have been filled with children walking and biking their way to and from school. The children will still be out there when school lets out, but they will be out more hours during the day, and at locations where drivers haven't been seeing them.

AAA Southern New England's School's Out Watch message reminds drivers that during the summer months, children are likely to be found walking or riding near playgrounds, shopping and recreation centers, and residential areas.

Children are particularly vulnerable to being struck by a vehicle because their actions are unpredictable and they are smaller, making them hard to see, said Robert P. Murray, AAA Southern New England's Senior Vice President of Corporate Affairs. "We really want to get the word out so we can reduce the risk of a tragedy."

AAA offers these tips for drivers:

Get in the habit now of recognizing playgrounds and other recreation areas.

- Look for bicycles, children playing, or any signs that indicate children nearby.

- Scan between parked vehicles and other danger zones for hiding children.

- Drive with headlights on at all times so children and other drivers can see you.

- Be prepared to take evasive action fast.

- Avoid using cell phones while driving.

Birth

MR. and MRS. JAMES DOHERTY, JR. of Woburn announce the birth of their daughter Meaghan Rose on May 27, 2000 at the Winchester Hospital. She will be joining her brothers Patrick (4) and Timmy (2) at home.

Grandparent honors are extended to Mr. & Mrs. James Doherty of Woburn and Mr. & Mrs. Alfred Tartarini of Winchester.

Health & Medicine

Physical is a requirement if attending summer camp

In the flurry of end-of-school activities and excitement about summer vacations, it's all too easy to put off the time-consuming task of preparing your child's summer camp health forms. Yet state law prohibits your child from participating in camp activities without a physical examination.

The state board of health requires that a health history form be filed for each child, each and every year he or she attends summer camp. One side of the form must be completed by the parent and other by the child's physician, who must have examined your child within the past two years. A new regulation requires that the health history form be signed and witnessed in the presence of a camp staff member.

The information required of the parent includes a detailed health history of your child's prior diseases, allergies, hospitalizations, operations, etc., as well as information about your child's dietary restrictions, activity limitations, current health-related problems and current medications.

You will need to list the names, addresses and telephone numbers of your child's physician and dentist, as well as information about your medical insurance. You will also need to provide emergency contacts, with phone numbers, and a release authorizing the camp to obtain emergency treatment for your child.

The information required of the physician includes a report of his or her most recent examination of your child, and information about any medical conditions or restrictions that may affect your child's camp activity. The physician must also provide a detailed immunization record. To enter camp, your child must have up-to-date immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, polio, measles, mumps and rubella, as well as a TB test.

For more information about the American Camping Association's health guidelines, visit www.acacamps.org. If your child does not have a pediatrician or family physician, he or she can visit Urgent Care Services or the Family Health Center at Hallmark Health/Malden Medical Center. To find a doctor, call Hallmark Health's free Physician Referral Line at 1-800-540-9191.

Giglio joins Pain Management

Anthony J. Giglio, a recent graduate from Healing Touch Institute in Wakefield, has joined the staff of Dr. Anil Kumar's Advanced Pain Management Center at 3 Woodland Road, Suite 210 in Stoneham.

Anil Kumar M.D. is the Medical Director of the Pain Center. Dr. Kumar is a diplomate in the American Board of Pain Medicine and American Academy of Pain Management. Dr. Kumar is also a member of the American Academy of Pain Medicine and the International Intradiscal Therapy Society.

Anthony brings with him to the the Pain Center a variety of therapeutic massage techniques which include:

- Swedish Massage - usually a full body relaxation massage, done with smooth gliding strokes with kneading and friction.

- Deep Tissue Massage - usually done for Sport related injuries or a more muscular client, using deeper strokes, finger pressure and friction on chronic areas of pain and tension, focusing on deeper layers or muscles.

ANTHONY J. GIGLIO

- Chronic Pain or injury treatment - usually focused on acute or chronic injury to decrease pain through myofascial release and light tissue strokes.

Anthony is an avid weight lifter of 17 years and an ex-football player in the preliminary stages of the N.F.L. for the Seattle Seahawks organization. He is also a graduate of Northeastern University and an E.M.T. for Action Ambulance for the town of Stoneham and has been on a 911 emergency system for 11 years.

Car seat checkpoint

TECHNICIANS AT HALLMARK HEALTH'S CAR SEAT SAFETY CHECKPOINT inspected 154 seats, making it one of the largest checkpoints ever held in Massachusetts. L to R: Officer John Boyle, Arlington Police Department; Officer Frank Bourgeois, Arlington Police Department; Joanne Cohn, senior vice-president for operations, Hallmark Health; Wakefield residents Roberta Coombs, Mikayla, 8 months, and Mackenzie, 3; Officer John Janakos, Littleton Police Department.

The Governor's Highway Safety Bureau and Hallmark Health recently inspected 154 car seats at its first Car Seat Safety Checkpoint, one of the largest ever in Massachusetts.

Held at Hallmark Health/Malden Medical Center, more than 100 cars drove through the checkpoint, seeking assistance in the difficult and sometimes confusing task of installing child car seats. Thirty-nine trained technicians and police officers from North and South shore communities were on hand to check for proper installation and unsafe seats. Of the 154 seats checked, 19 were replaced, including four seats that had been recalled without the parent's knowledge.

"We are pleased to provide such an important public health service to our communities," said Ron Scott, senior vice president of public affairs and marketing for Hallmark Health.

The technicians of Hallmark Health's Car Seat Safety Checkpoint replaced car seats using specific criteria. When evaluating your own car seat, you should keep these points in mind:

- Is your seat more than 10 years old?
- Does the seat have labels (a federal regulation)?
- Has the seat been recalled?
- Was the seat ever involved in a crash?

If the answer to any of these questions is yes, then your child's car seat may be unsafe and should be replaced.

For the name and number of a certified technician in your area, call Jenny Barron of the Governor's Highway Safety Bureau at 617-973-8912. Technicians will inspect your car seat free of charge.

Sparkle, shine, so long for now

Exceeding expectations, in Lynnfield

"Lynnfield Superintendent of Schools Dr. Richard Palermo has once again met or exceeded the expectations of the School Committee in all his duties," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"At the School Committee meeting, Chairman Janice Confalone read the Committee's composite evaluations of Palermo's performance in the areas of: relationship with the School Committee, educational leadership, personnel management, financial management and communications/public relations."

"Each area had several goals Palermo was required to meet. According to the report written by Confalone, he did so in extraordinary fashion."

"The Superintendent is an effective educational leader who knows what it takes to have an outstanding school system, one we can all be proud of," Confalone wrote in her evaluation. "We are proud to say that Dr. Richard Palermo is our Superintendent and give him our vote of confidence to continue to lead the Lynnfield public schools in their pursuit of excellence."

"Palermo received the kudos in a modest fashion."

"I take your feedback and constructive criticism very seriously," Palermo said about the evaluation. "I'm looking forward to working hard to meet the schools' goals."

Enhancing skills, in Burlington

"Two summer educational programs are designed to enhance the skills of elementary school students," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"One is the summer writing workshop, which is for first-through-fourth graders and is in its eighth year."

"This will take place at the Francis Wyman School and cover 18 week-day sessions, running from Wednesday, July 5 through Friday, July 28. The time is 8:30 a.m. to noon."

"The second one is new, a summer reading program. That will be for kindergartners through second graders."

"It will cover 23 week-day sessions, lasting from Wednesday, July 5 through Friday, August 4. It will take place at the Memorial School and also run from 8:30 a.m. to noon."

"There is a fee for both programs.... There will be three teachers participating in the writing program and Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction Katie Spinos said she wants to keep the ratio at 10 to 1 or 12 to 1.... Regarding the writing workshop, Spinos said she had spoken with parents about it and 'I heard wonderful things about it.'"

"I think it's an excellent program," said Spinos. "The parents I talked to asked me to make sure we continue it.... It's an excellent way to get kids engrossed and passionate about writing," said Spinos.

"According to the memorandum sent to parents, students 'will write on topics of their choosing' with the 'guidance of experienced writing teachers and peers.'"

"The literature 'will be used for models for students' writing,' according to Spinos."

"The assistant superintendent also stressed the importance of the reading program, of how students should spend more time reading."

"We would like our students to be accomplished readers by the time they reach the third grade," said Spinos.

"In the memorandum to parents, Spinos wrote that 'students will work individually and in small groups on reading and language-based activities.'"

For Consumers

Travel services purchase guide

In anticipation of the start of the busiest travel season of the year, Attorney General Tom Reilly has made his Guide to Purchasing Travel Services available to consumers on the Attorney General's website, at www.ago.state.ma.us.

The guide informs consumers of their rights when dealing with travel agents and helps them distinguish between legitimate professionals and less trustworthy operators.

Web site for kids and their families

America's Library (www.americaslibrary.gov), a new Web site for children and families, has handled 6.5 million transactions since its debut on April 24, the 200th birthday of the Library of Congress.

"The Library of Congress is gratified that its newest Web site has been met with such an enthusiastic response," said Librarian of Congress James H. Billington. "America's Library plays an important role in fulfilling the Library's mission of making its collections as accessible as possible to people of all ages."

The site has also received praise from the press: "Discover a delightful Web space a colorful exploration about our colorful past," said The Washington Post. And USA Today called America's Library "a fun way to meet amazing Americans, explore the states and jump back in time."

Bold graphics and bright colors entice users to click on the following main home page links: "Meet Amazing Americans," "Jump Back in Time," "Explore the States," "Join America at Play" and "See, Hear and Sing."

"As people begin to think about travel plans for the summer, it is important that they know their rights as consumers," said AG Reilly. "Too often vacationers are taken for a ride by the deceptive practices of some in the travel service industry."

The guide offers tips to consumers such as:

- Avoid purchasing travel services from unknown, out-of-state operators. Although they are subject to the Attorney General's regulations, as a practical matter they may not be available to answer your questions, and may be difficult to reach if problems arise.

- Ask your agent how he or she knows about a particular provider or travel services. Has he or she done business with this tour operator for a long time and received good feedback from customers?

- Always pay for travel services with a credit card. If there is trouble down the line, you minimize your risk of losing money on the deal. In addition, the guide details the Attorney General's regulations.

- No business selling travel services to Massachusetts consumers may misrepresent any service being sold. No business can fail to disclose to consumers any piece of information that could influence a consumer's decision to buy the services being offered.

- If the seller violates any of the disclosure requirements found in the regulation, the consumer may cancel his or her purchase, and the seller has 30 days to refund all payments the consumer has made.

For a copy of the travel regulations, call the Attorney General's consumer hotline at 617-727-8400.

ANTHONY MANCONI

"All rise," the court officer intoned, "Judge Roy Bean, the law East of the Pecos presiding. The case to be heard is, The Revere Beach Retired Federal Chicken Inspectors versus, The Woodchipper.

The Chipper is enraged with saying that the Chicken Inspectors look over the beautiful "Chicks" who walk or jog near Kelley's. It is admitted that, "Fowl Language" is never used."

Judge Roy Bean said, "Chipper, you look familiar to me, have you ever been up before me?" "I don't know your Honor," I replied, "What time do you get up?" "I mean, have you ever appeared in this court before? If so in what suit?" "I think it was my light brown one sir."

"Miss Curtis will now question you," "where were you born?" In Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, "How long ago?" "I don't know, I was very small and weighed only two pounds." "Did you grow any?" "Oh you ought to see me now."

"Another foolish answer like that and I'll hold you in contempt of court." "Miss Curtis, you're so beautiful, you can hold me forever."

Folks, the case was continued until my star witnesses from Mickey's Larry Flynn, Richie Gillis, Blackie Vega, Jackie Ross, Brother Gallagher and Johnny Ave finish the case they are on, it's either Miller's or Budweiser.

I said to Kathy, 'I saw a new invention at the home show that I hope you will learn to use. It comes in two parts, a "Needle" and "Thread."

George Gould said to a woman on the Blue Line Train, "Please excuse me for not giving you my seat. I'm a member of the Sit Still Club." "That's O.K." she replied, "I'm a member of the "Whale Watchers Club!"

Some parents spend the first part of a child's life getting him to walk and talk and the rest of his childhood getting him to sit down and shut up."

My old maid aunt told me she had a burglar alarm installed by the Robert Butler Alarm Co. "Gee Aunt Mae," I told her,

"After all these years I hope you, "CATCH" one."

MOVIE REVIEWS

"Me, Myself and Irene" funny

BY PAUL FEELY

MOVIE: "ME, MYSELF AND IRENE"
GRADE: ***

Review: Jim Carrey is given a chance to display his mastery of physical comedy, and pulls it off superbly in this new comedy from Bobby and Peter Farrelly, the duo behind the huge hit, 'There's Something About Mary'.

Carrey plays Charlie, a Rhode Island state trooper who develops a spilt personality when his wife leaves him for a midget Mensa member. His alter-ego, Hank, is tough and belligerent, while Charlie is a pushover. He is assigned to take prisoner Irene, played by Renee Zellweger, to upstate New York to face an EPA charge. Along the way they have a few misadventures and fall in love, and he must get her out of some trouble involving a conspiracy and her former employer.

The movie has many gross-out sight gags, as well as some touching moments. If you liked the humor in 'Mary', you'll love this one.

SHORTTAKES
MOVIE: "SHAFT"
GRADE: ***

Review: Samuel L. Jackson reprises the role Richard Roundtree made famous in the 1970s in this slick remake.

The original 'Shaft' featured the first strong, breakout role for a black male actor in mainstream movies, and it has become a cult favorite for action film fans. Jackson picks up where Roundtree left off (the original John Shaft even makes a cameo in this one as Jackson's uncle), with hard-hitting action sequences and witty one-liners that make for perfect summer movie fodder.

Early reports from the set said that Jackson was having a blast making this movie, and it shows onscreen. The only drawback is that its sometimes racially-tinged humor is slanted against whites a bit much.

MOVIE: "MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 2"
GRADE: ***

Review: Though much more action-oriented than the first installment of this popular movie series, this latest Tom Cruise vehicle suffers from some plot holes.

Cruise reprises his role of Ethan Hunt, a member of the Impossible Mission team, who must go after a renegade agent who has stolen a supervirus, along with the antidote, and is now auctioning them both off to the highest bidder.

This installment is directed by action king John Woo, and the stunts are spectacular. The motorcycle sequence, along with the hand-to-hand combat scenes (Cruise did many of his own stunts) are top notch, and almost make up for the fact that you can see what's about to happen next long before it does. You won't have to think too much to understand this one, just sit back and enjoy the ride.

MARKET SURVEYS OF AMERICA, AN INDEPENDENT SURVEY COMPANY, IS PROUD TO ANNOUNCE THE WINNERS OF THE 5th ANNUAL GREATER WAKEFIELD/READING AREA'S BEST BUSINESSES FOR 2000 SURVEY. THE ABOVE WINNERS ARE THE RESULT OF TALLIED PUBLIC BALLOTS TAKEN THROUGHOUT THE GREATER WAKEFIELD/READING AREA FOR THE SMALL BUSINESS COMMUNITY.

ATTENTION PARENTS!

Do you LIVE or WORK in Lynnfield, Reading or North Reading?

Are you the working or disabled or retired parent/primary caregiver of a preschooler?*

Is your family income less than:*

- ◆ 55,272 for a family of 2
- ◆ 68,268 for a family of 3
- ◆ 81,264 for a family of 4
- ◆ 94,272 for a family of 5

If you answered yes to the above questions, the Lynnfield, Reading and North Reading Community Partnership for Children has a child care scholarship for you!

For more information on this program and how it can help your family offset the high cost of child care,

Call Barbara Shahr at:
1-800-660-2868,
Ext. 11

Movies From S-8

MOVIE: "DINOSAUR"
GRADE: ***

Review: This is another top-notch animated feature from Disney, though it may be a bit too intense for young children.

The story centers around Aladar, a dinosaur that is raised from birth by a family of lemurs. He eventually finds a group of dinosaurs on the move led by a tough talkin' dino, and he must help the group change their ways rather than let the old and weaker ones fall behind and die.

The scenes that may be too intense for young ones involve two carnosaurs that attack and kill other dinosaurs, as well as a deadly meteor shower that takes out almost all the dinosaurs. The scenes are more violent than what is usually seen in a Disney movie, which is why this one generated a 'PG' rating.

A certain five-year-old I know quite well reviewed this one with me, and while she was frightened a bit during the movie, there were no long-term effects (i.e. nightmares).

MOVIE: "FREQUENCY"
GRADE: ***

Review: This movie is the sleeper hit of the season.

The story is touching, tugging on the same heartstrings that 'Field of Dreams' did, and will leave you with wet streaks down your cheeks when it is over. Trust me: though you may not have heard about it, this film shouldn't be missed.

You're as good as gold with numbers, have great hands and know how to roll up your sleeves and get down to business!

Loomis Fargo & Co.

Wakefield location
Full Time: 8AM-4PM, or 2PM-11PM
Part Time: Also available

That measures up well toward being part of our rich heritage. We've been standing tall, protecting cash and gold since the days of the wild West. Today we're moving on to an exciting new frontier and need top hands to do the job right. We're Loomis Fargo, a growing industry leader in security services.

With us, you'll operate contents of shipment against receipt, separate checks and currency count and verify each shipment, consolidate multi-location customer deposits and prepare deposit slips and change orders.

You must be able to read, count, add, subtract write and record numbers, perform simple data entry and use 10-key adding machine. Excellent finger hand and wrist dexterity essential. Will need the accuracy and speed to process about 25 individual deposits and at least 10 change orders on an 8-hour shift.

We provide a starting salary of $8.10 per hour, full benefits, including 401(k), and paid vacations/holidays.

TO RIDE WITH US, CALL KERRI ANN, TOLL-FREE, 800-550-1500.
